Spectacular Fire in Brooklyn

Airview shows how smoke engulfs a large part of the surrounding area as firemen battle a spectacular fire in an old trolley barn on the Brooklyn waterfront in New York city, June 30. Five persons were believed missing in the blaze that spread to four business structures and three homes, with damage estimated by Fire Marshal Martin Scott at more than half a million dollars. The blaze was brought under control after nearly two hours by all of Brooklyn's 23 fire companies aided by apparatus from other boroughs of New York.

Truman Says Controls Law Weak as Regards Stability

Strikes Out Against Limitations on Wage Board and Says 'Congress Opens Dangerous Gap in Mobilization Program' for U. S.

Washington, July 1 (AP)—President Truman said today the new economic controls law "weakens our ability to hold down prices and stabilize our economy."

In a statement, Truman in effect scolded Congress for not giving him the stronger powers he asked and lashed particularly at provisions limiting the Wage Stabilization Board to advisory powers in the future.

The change as to the wage board, Truman said, destroys the existing system without providing any substitute."

In this respect, he said "the Congress has opened a dangerous gap in the mobilization program."

Truman got out a 1200-word statement of his views on the new law. But at no point did he mention a provision requesting him to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act in an effort to end the steel strike.

The new law continued for 10 months powers to curb wages, prices, and rents and to allocate scarce materials.

But some of these powers are whittled down instead of strengthened as Truman had asked. He also had requested a two-year extension of controls instead of the 10 months Congress voted.

Truman signed the bill yesterday and it is now law as the old controls law expired last midnight.

Signs Reluctantly

Congressional leaders, like House Speaker Rayburn of Texas, said they found Truman unenthusiastic about the measure sent to him by Congress Saturday night. He signed it reluctantly, they said, feeling it was all he could do.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS), still studying the legislation, withheld formal comment. One OPS chieftain who asked anonymity said: "Every change in the act is calculated to raise prices substantially."

Many legislators who voted for the bill contend inflationary pressures are slackening, making tight controls unnecessary.

The new law keeps the lid on prices and wages generally for the next 10 months, until April 30, 1953. It continues authority for allocating scarce materials for a full year, until June 30, 1953.

Dropped from price control are processed fruits and vegetables—frozen, canned and so on.

Credit Curbs Drop

Government curbs on consumer credit—the installment plan for buying things like automobiles and refrigerators—died with the old act last midnight.

Real estate credit restrictions were relaxed, but officials announced there would be no immediate change in the regulation "X", which sets minimum cash down payments for home purchases.

The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) is retained in the act, but somewhat altered in scope.

The new act contains a request from Congress to the president, asking him to invoke the 80-day no-strike injunction provision of the Taft-Hartley labor law in the steel strike. The request has no legal effect, however, and can be ignored.

New Paltz Man, 53, Killed in Accident

D. W. Wells' Body Found Along Stream Near Kerhonkson

The body of David W. Wells, 53, motorcycle dealer of New Paltz, was found beside his motorcycle in a stream near Kerhonkson about 9 p. m. Monday, state police reported.

Wells had been dead between three and five hours, authorities estimated, but could not be seen from the nearby road.

The body was discovered by three New Jersey men who were walking along the bank of the Little Stony Kill Creek about two miles east of Kerhonkson, troopers said.

A verdict of accidental death was issued by Coroner Ernest A. Kelly of Kingston after investigation by troopers and D. Edmund Gellert of Kerhonkson, who pronounced Wells dead. The body was badly crushed, Dr. Gellert informed the coroner.

Hidden From View

The location of the body and motorcycle when they were discovered was hidden from the view of passersby on the nearby Foordmore road by an embankment, troopers said.

After an investigation, troopers of the substation at Wawarsing said that Wells, an experienced cyclist, apparently had been riding east on the Foordmore road and was negotiating a curve when for some reason the cycle went out of control, grazing a tree and plunging down the bank behind a small bridge and into the creek.

The body was removed to the Humiston Funeral Home in Kerhonkson, where identification was made from papers carried on his person. After the family was notified, the body was transferred to the V. T. Pine and Son Funeral Home in New Paltz.

Discovery of the body was made by Daniel and Raymond Slobodian of Elizabeth and Gregory Herman, Jr., of Maywood, N. J., troopers said.

Motorcycle Enthusiast

Wells, who resided at 15 Mulberry street, New Paltz, had been a motorcycle enthusiast since he came to that village as a boy of 16. Besides being known as an experienced rider, he was also a dealer in mortorcycles.

The son of the late Arthur and Elizabeth Parcell Wells, he is survived by his wife, the former Miss Alice Bernard, of New Paltz; a daughter, Mrs. George Hasbrouck, Jr., of New Paltz, one aunt and several cousins.

The funeral will be held from the V. T. Pine and Son Funeral Home on Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in New Paltz Rural Cemetery.

License Bargain

Bargain days begin today for the motorist who wishes to obtain a New York state registration and license. The half year fee goes into effect today and the Motor Vehicle Bureau will now issue 1952 plates for half fee. Licenses secured after July 1 will continue to be valid until February 1, 1953.

Brooklyn Blaze Loss Might Total 2 Million Dollars

New York, July 1 (AP)—Brooklyn's most spectacular fire in years may have caused damage of more than twice the million dollars originally estimated, it was indicated today.

The multi-alarm blaze yesterday spread over a four-block area after breaking out in an old trolley barn being converted into a warehouse by the Shampain, Citron and Clark paper box manufacturing firm.

A spokesman for the company, after re-examining the general fire scene last night, said the losses "might aggregate two million or even three million dollars."

While he made his survey, firemen continued their search for the cause of the fire and continued to wet down the smoldering area.

400 Leave Homes

Approximately 400 persons were forced to leave their homes temporarily during the fire. Forty-two were burned out permanently from their dwellings.

One person, a watchman, was killed and 46 firemen and civilians were injured, none seriously.

Fire headquarters said the number of alarms summoning firefighters was New YorK's greatest since a three-day blaze at an oil works in the same Brooklyn section in 1919.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The position of the treasury June 27, 1952: Net budget receipts $510,152,895.66. Budget expenditures $218,962,602.48. Cash balance $7,221,877,355.20. Custom receipts for month $42,769,494.55. Budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $61,775,596,169.09. Budget expenditures fiscal year $64,825,904,756.57. Budget deficit $3,050,308,587.48. Total debt $258,337,646,333.37. Decrease under previous day $127,429,441.16. Gold assets $23,346,359,973.06.

Dewey Says Eisenhower To Be Victor

Governor Says Nominee Will Be Either Ike or Taft, but Not Any Darkhorse

Sees 30 as Figure

Anyone Who Gets That Close on First Ballot Will Win, He Says

Houston, Tex., July 1 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who knows about such things, says no darkhorse is going to win the Republican nomination at the party convention opening in Chicago next Monday.

Dewey thinks the nominee is going to be Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. But if it isn't, the New York governor says the man who heads the ticket will be Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

It is the opinion of Dewey—who has batted .666 in getting Republican nominations in 1944 and 1948 and losing it in 1940—that not much more than 100 votes will be outstanding on the first ballot at Chicago.

This means, he says, that favorite sons like Gov. Earl Warren of California, former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota and Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland will be able to marshal only about that many between them.

No Room Left

The Dewey reasoning would leave no room for Warren, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the convention keynoter, or any other darkhorse to emerge to take the nomination away from Eisenhower or Taft.

"If any can gets within 30 votes of the nomination on any ballot, he's got it," Dewey observed to a news conference yesterday.

His theory is that Eisenhower will lead Taft on the first ballot, getting more than 500 votes while the Ohio senator falls short of that mark. A total of 604 votes is needed to nominate and Taft claims he has them in hand.

The New York governor wouldn't put it on the line, however, that the man who leads on the first ballot necessarily will get the nomination.

Led On First Three

He recalled that he led on the first three ballots at the Philadelphia convention of 1940 and the nomination went to Wendell L. Willkie. But he contends the general atmosphere of the convention, as well as the circumstances of the race, are different this year.

Under Dewey's thesis, McKeldin and Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania would have to decide before the first ballot where they are going to try to throw the majority of their states' GOP delegations.

That also would apply to Arthur Summerfield, Michigan national committeeman who has been sitting on the fence with a reputed majority of that state's 46 delegates.

As the New York governor sees it, it will be a quick death battle between Eisenhower and Taft, over within about three ballots. It took six for Willkie to win the nomination in 1940 from both Dewey and Taft.

Taft-Ike Fight Gets Down to Delegates; Platform Tips Asked

Call Those With Ideas On Issues

Variety of Issues Are to Be Dealt With by Groups—Foreign Policy Liveliest

Stassen May Talk

Minnesotan Requests He Be Heard — Dulles Carries 'Key'

Chicago, July 1 (AP)—Republicans who will draft their party's 1952 platform today called in the people with axes to grind for tips on how to win votes in the November presidential election.

The Resolutions (Platform) Committee arranged to meet and organize a full-scale morning meeting and then break up into 11 sub-groups in the afternoon. These smaller groups will hear leaders of business, labor, agriculture, experts on foreign affairs and representatives of other organizations say what line the Republicans should take in an effort to wrest the presidency from the Democrats.

Party officials said plain citizens, if any choose to appear, will be welcomed to give their views, too.

Various Issues at Hand

The subcommittees would deal with such issues as foreign policy, labor-management relations, agricultural aid, civil rights, taxation and government spending, national defense, communism and corruption, veterans affairs, economic problems, including federal controls, western state developments, and governmental affairs such as Civil Service and reorganizations.

The foreign policy hearing shaped up as the liveliest of any of the subcommittee sessions and, in fact, was set for one of the largest ballrooms in the Conrad-Hilton Hotel, official convention headquarters.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft, the two top contenders for their party's presidential nomination, have differed sharply on some phases of foreign policy.

The resolutions committee's chairman, Senator Eugene D. Milliken of Colorado, sought to minimize the possibility of a convention fight over the foreign policy plank.

Expects 'Little Trouble'

Himself a Taft supporter, Millikin told newsmen "we should have little trouble getting together on this and other issues because our differences are, in reality, very small."

Eisenhower leaders, on the other hand, contend there is a wide gap between their candidate and the Ohio senator. Eisenhower has described Taft as an isolationist and has said the only reason he entered the nomination contest was to try to get the GOP to take a firm stand for broad international cooperation to combat Russian communism.

Rival Delegations Given Time to Make Their Arguments

Chicago, July 1 (AP)—The Taft-Eisenhower battle for the Republican presidential nomination narrowed down momentarily today to a bitter tug-of-war over a few score delegates.

Television cameras were set up to report the struggle—from the outside, if not from within the green-decorated ballroom battle scene itself.

Seventy-two votes at next week's national convention were at stake.

In a close race—and this one looks nip-and-tuck — the GOP presidential nomination might well be decided by the committee's recognizing delegates favoring Senator Robert A. Taft or those backing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. The latest Associated Press delegate count shows 475 for Taft and 409 for Eisenhower. Nomination requires 604.

Packed With Taft Men

Eisenhower's backers say the national committee is packed with Taft men. They threaten to appeal the committee's decision to the convention credentials committee and to wage a floor fight at the convention itself if the rulings on the state delegations go against the general.

Taft's supporters — with the Ohio senator here in person to direct the campaign—undoubtedly would make similar appeals in the event of a decision favoring Eisenhower.

The Taft people gave a little ground last night. They finally agreed in a subcommittee session to allow rival delegations from Texas and Louisiana an hour and a half each to make their arguments.

Eisenhower's headquarters hailed this as "a major victory at this convention for public opinion."

Schifano, 60, Is Indicted For Murder, First Degree

Grand Jury Delivers Partial Report to Judge—Four Dismissals

Samuel Schifano, 60, Highland, has been charged by the grand jury with murder, first degree, for the alleged killing of Mrs. Emelia Nusca, 52, at the Nusca apartment near Highland on June 20.

The first degree murder charge was returned Monday afternoon when the grand jury made a partial report to County Judge John M. Cashin.

Schifano, who was present in court, was not arraigned under the indictment. His attorney, Senator Harry Gittleson of New York city, requested District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn to postpone the arraignment and all other proceedings in the case until Tuesday, July 8, at 2 p. m. when Gittleman will be in court to represent his client. Meanwhile Schifano is in jail.

State Troopers, following up an anonymous telephone call on June 20, discovered Mrs. Nusca and Schifano both suffering from cuts and slashes in Mrs. Nusca's apartment on route 44-55, three miles west of Highland. Both were taken to St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie where Mrs. Nusca died on June 21. Schifano was kept under guard at the hospital until he was brought to jail on June 23.

Near the two the Troopers found a hatchet and a knife. Mrs. Nusca, whose unclad body was covered with blood, suffered from deep scalp lacerations which penetrated to the skull, and the severance of several fingers. Schifano had cuts on his chest near the heart.

Schifano, first gave his address as New York city, but when booked at the jail he gave Highland as his residence.

Filed With Bruhn

The first degree murder indictment, which was one of seven open bills returned by the grand jury, was filed with the Court by District Attorney Bruhn and the case and all proceedings thereto were adjourned until July 8.

Weirton Asks Right To Raise Prices

Would Boost Steel $5.50 Ton to Help Cover Cost Increases

Pittsburgh, July 1 (AP)—A big steel company which granted 25-cent hourly pay boosts to its non-striking employes asked the government today for a price increase while the striking CIO United Steelworkers tried to sign up more small firms to new contracts.

Weirton Steel Co., a subsidiary of National Steel Corp., asked governmental permission to raise its price $5.50 a ton to help cover increased labor costs. There was no immediate reaction from price control officials in Washington.

The company, an important producer of tin plate and other products with 11,500 employes in Weirton, W. Va., and Steubenville, O., last week signed a contract with the Independent Steelworkers for a 16-cent hourly pay boost, plus nine cents in fringe benefits. The company does not bargain with the CIO-USW.

Stalin's Secret Army—1

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(AP Foreign News Analyst)

An international game of "I spy", is being played around the world today, with life and death as the stakes.

It is difficult to say who is winning. On the surface, the weight of numbers appeals to be on the side of world communism.

Perhaps the west makes up in quality what it lacks in quantity.

The atom bomb, spawned from the blood and fire of the fiercest struggle in mankind's history, provided the challenge which built the vastest, and possibly the most successful, network of spies that the world has ever known. It is operated from Moscow.

The bomb was only a profound formula on paper when this network had its beginnings. Scientists of many nations sweated through a deadly race to make a mathematical formula burst into terrible reality. The nation first with this awesome weapon would hold vast power.

Long before World War II, scientists worked to perfect new weapons, each more terrible than its predecessor. But the Soviet Union lagged far behind. What it could not develop it decided to steal.

Short on technological know-how, but long on intrigue, the Russians began building a quarter century ago a spy organization which was to reach into all advanced countries and snatch life-and-death secrets that blocked the Soviet path to world domination.

Spy revelations in Canada, in England, in Sweden and in the United States, all linked together in a single pattern which is still developing, are part of a story which had its beginnings somewhere around the year 1924, about five years after the Bolshevik revolution in Russia.

Lenin, founder of the Russian revolution, was dead. A new dictator, Josef Djugashvili, called Stalin, dominated the Kremlin. Outwardly he spoke of building "socialism in one country." He purged those who spoke of the permanent world revolution, while he dreamed and schemed world domination.

The organization was built carefully. Promising young Communists from abroad were brought to Moscow for special training in a school of the NKVD, the secret police.

Where the new Soviet Union was recognized and had embassies, specially trained staffs were sent in for work quite apart from that performed by the ambassadors. In each embassy the NKVD had its representative. There

Senate Approves 46 Billions For Armed Forces for '52-53

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The Senate last night approved a $46,403,000,000 budget to run the armed forces for the fiscal year starting today, nearly five billion dollars less than President Truman asked.

The measure, the largest money bill before Congress this year, carries a provision Sen. O'Mahoney (D.-Wyo.) said assured the air force it could finance a buildup to 143 wings by mid-1933. The present air force is a little over 90 wings.

The final total for the military services will have to be worked out in conference with the House which voted $46,207,000,000. The administration had requested $51,390,000,000.

In approving the armed forces budget on a 66-to-0 roll call vote, the Senate completed its version of all money legislation except a 10-million-dollar supplementary fund now before the Appropriations Committee. A vote on this is expected Thursday.

However, both the Senate and House will have to reconsider eight appropriations bills—in addition to the military budget—which are in conference Committees.

Congress has sent only one money measure to the President but legislators hope to clear all 11 bills before Saturday, a target date they've set for adjournment in order to attend the national political conventions this month.

A major difference between the Senate and House versions of the

Truman Says Controls Law Weak as Regards Stability

Strikes Out Against Limitations on Wage Board and Says 'Congress Opens Dangerous Gap in Mobilization Program' for U. S.

Washington, July 1 (AP)—President Truman said today the new economic controls law "weakens our ability to hold down prices and stabilize our economy."

In a statement, Truman in effect scolded Congress for not giving him the stronger powers he asked and lashed particularly at provisions limiting the Wage Stabilization Board to advisory powers in the future.

The change as to the wage board, Truman said, destroys the existing system without providing any substitute."

In this respect, he said "the Congress has opened a dangerous gap in the mobilization program."

Truman got out a 1200-word statement of his views on the new law. But at no point did he mention a provision requesting him to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act in an effort to end the steel strike.

The new law continued for 10 months powers to curb wages, prices, and rents and to allocate scarce materials.

But some of these powers are whittled down instead of strengthened as Truman had asked. He also had requested a two-year extension of controls instead of the 10 months Congress voted.

Truman signed the bill yesterday and it is now law as the old controls law expired last midnight.

Signs Reluctantly

Congressional leaders, like House Speaker Rayburn of Texas, said they found Truman unenthusiastic about the measure sent to him by Congress Saturday night. He signed it reluctantly, they said, feeling it was all he could do.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS), still studying the legislation, withheld formal comment. One OPS chieftain who asked anonymity said: "Every change in the act is calculated to raise prices substantially."

Many legislators who voted for the bill contend inflationary pressures are slackening, making tight controls unnecessary.

The new law keeps the lid on prices and wages generally for the next 10 months, until April 30, 1953. It continues authority for allocating scarce materials for a full year, until June 30, 1953.

Dropped from price control are processed fruits and vegetables—frozen, canned and so on.

Credit Curbs Drop

Government curbs on consumer credit—the installment plan for buying things like automobiles and refrigerators—died with the old act last midnight.

Real estate credit restrictions were relaxed, but officials announced there would be no immediate change in the regulation "X", which sets minimum cash down payments for home purchases.

The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) is retained in the act, but somewhat altered in scope.

The new act contains a request from Congress to the president, asking him to invoke the 80-day no-strike injunction provision of the Taft-Hartley labor law in the steel strike. The request has no legal effect, however, and can be ignored.

New Paltz Man, 53, Killed in Accident

D. W. Wells' Body Found Along Stream Near Kerhonkson

The body of David W. Wells, 53, motorcycle dealer of New Paltz, was found beside his motorcycle in a stream near Kerhonkson about 9 p. m. Monday, state police reported.

Wells had been dead between three and five hours, authorities estimated, but could not be seen from the nearby road.

The body was discovered by three New Jersey men who were walking along the bank of the Little Stony Kill Creek about two miles east of Kerhonkson, troopers said.

A verdict of accidental death was issued by Coroner Ernest A. Kelly of Kingston after investigation by troopers and D. Edmund Gellert of Kerhonkson, who pronounced Wells dead. The body was badly crushed, Dr. Gellert informed the coroner.

Hidden From View

The location of the body and motorcycle when they were discovered was hidden from the view of passersby on the nearby Foordmore road by an embankment, troopers said.

After an investigation, troopers of the substation at Wawarsing said that Wells, an experienced cyclist, apparently had been riding east on the Foordmore road and was negotiating a curve when for some reason the cycle went out of control, grazing a tree and plunging down the bank behind a small bridge and into the creek.

The body was removed to the Humiston Funeral Home in Kerhonkson, where identification was made from papers carried on his person. After the family was notified, the body was transferred to the V. T. Pine and Son Funeral Home in New Paltz.

Discovery of the body was made by Daniel and Raymond Slobodian of Elizabeth and Gregory Herman, Jr., of Maywood, N. J., troopers said.

Motorcycle Enthusiast

Wells, who resided at 15 Mulberry street, New Paltz, had been a motorcycle enthusiast since he came to that village as a boy of 16. Besides being known as an experienced rider, he was also a dealer in mortorcycles.

The son of the late Arthur and Elizabeth Parcell Wells, he is survived by his wife, the former Miss Alice Bernard, of New Paltz; a daughter, Mrs. George Hasbrouck, Jr., of New Paltz, one aunt and several cousins.

The funeral will be held from the V. T. Pine and Son Funeral Home on Thursday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in New Paltz Rural Cemetery.

Brooklyn Blaze Loss Might Total 2 Million Dollars

New York, July 1 (AP)—Brooklyn's most spectacular fire in years may have caused damage of more than twice the million dollars originally estimated, it was indicated today.

The multi-alarm blaze yesterday spread over a four-block area after breaking out in an old trolley barn being converted into a warehouse by the Shampain, Citron and Clark paper box manufacturing firm.

A spokesman for the company, after re-examining the general fire scene last night, said the losses "might aggregate two million or even three million dollars."

While he made his survey, firemen continued their search for the cause of the fire and continued to wet down the smoldering area.

400 Leave Homes

Approximately 400 persons were forced to leave their homes temporarily during the fire. Forty-two were burned out permanently from their dwellings.

One person, a watchman, was killed and 46 firemen and civilians were injured, none seriously.

Fire headquarters said the number of alarms summoning firefighters was New York's greatest since a three-day blaze at an oil works in the same Brooklyn section in 1919.

Stalin's Secret Army—1

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
(AP Foreign News Analyst)

An international game of "I spy", is being played around the world today, with life and death as the stakes.

It is difficult to say who is winning. On the surface, the weight of numbers appeals to be on the side of world communism.

Perhaps the west makes up in quality what it lacks in quantity.

The atom bomb, spawned from the blood and fire of the fiercest struggle in mankind's history, provided the challenge which built the vastest, and possibly the most successful, network of spies that the world has ever known. It is operated from Moscow.

The bomb was only a profound formula on paper when this network had its beginnings. Scientists of many nations sweated through a deadly race to make a mathematical formula burst into terrible reality. The nation first with this awesome weapon would hold vast power.

Long before World War II, scientists worked to perfect new weapons, each more terrible than its predecessor. But the Soviet Union lagged far behind. What it could not develop it decided to steal.

Short on technological know-how, but long on intrigue, the Russians began building a quarter century ago a spy organization which was to reach into all advanced countries and snatch life-and-death secrets that blocked the Soviet path to world domination.

Spy revelations in Canada, in England, in Sweden and in the United States, all linked together in a single pattern which is still developing, are part of a story which had its beginnings somewhere around the year 1924, about five years after the Bolshevik revolution in Russia.

Lenin, founder of the Russian revolution, was dead. A new dictator, Josef Djugashvili, called Stalin, dominated the Kremlin. Outwardly he spoke of building "socialism in one country." He purged those who spoke of the permanent world revolution, while he dreamed and schemed world domination.

The organization was built carefully. Promising young Communists from abroad were brought to Moscow for special training in a school of the NKVD, the secret police.

Where the new Soviet Union was recognized and had embassies, specially trained staffs were sent in for work quite apart from that performed by the ambassadors. In each embassy the NKVD had its representative. There

Schifano, 60, Is Indicted For Murder, First Degree

Grand Jury Delivers Partial Report to Judge—Four Dismissals

Samuel Schifano, 60, Highland, has been charged by the grand jury with murder, first degree, for the alleged killing of Mrs. Emelia Nusca, 52, at the Nusca apartment near Highland on June 20.

The first degree murder charge was returned Monday afternoon when the grand jury made a partial report to County Judge John M. Cashin.

Schifano, who was present in court, was not arraigned under the indictment. His attorney, Senator Harry Gittleson of New York city, requested District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn to postpone the arraignment and all other proceedings in the case until Tuesday, July 8, at 2 p. m. when Gittleman will be in court to represent his client. Meanwhile Schifano is in jail.

State Troopers, following up an anonymous telephone call on June 20, discovered Mrs. Nusca and Schifano both suffering from cuts and slashes in Mrs. Nusca's apartment on route 44-55, three miles west of Highland. Both were taken to St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie where Mrs. Nusca died on June 21. Schifano was kept under guard at the hospital until he was brought to jail on June 28.

Near the two the Troopers found a hatchet and a knife. Mrs. Nusca, whose unclad body was covered with blood, suffered from deep scalp lacerations which penetrated to the skull, and the severance of several fingers. Schifano had cuts on his chest near the heart.

Schifano, first gave his address as New York city, but when booked at the jail he gave Highland as his residence.

Filed With Bruhn

The first degree murder indictment, which was one of seven open bills returned by the grand jury, was filed with the Court by District Attorney Bruhn and the case and all proceedings thereto were adjourned until July 8.

Weirton Asks Right To Raise Prices

Would Boost Steel $5.50 Ton to Help Cover Cost Increases

Pittsburgh, July 1 (AP)—A big steel company which granted 25-cent hourly pay boosts to its non-striking employes asked the government today for a price increase while the striking CIO United Steelworkers tried to sign up more small firms to new contracts.

Weirton Steel Co., a subsidiary of National Steel Corp., asked governmental permission to raise its price $5.50 a ton to help cover increased labor costs. There was no immediate reaction from price control officials in Washington.

The company, an important producer of tin plate and other products with 11,500 employes in Weirton, W. Va., and Steubenville, O., last week signed a contract with the Independent Steelworkers for a 16-cent hourly pay boost, plus nine cents in fringe benefits. The company does not bargain with the CIO-USW.

Weirton employes earned an

Senate Approves 46 Billions For Armed Forces for '52-53

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The Senate last night approved a $46,403,000,000 budget to run the armed forces for the fiscal year starting today, nearly five billion dollars less than President Truman asked.

The measure, the largest money bill before Congress this year, carries a provision Sen. O'Mahoney (D.-Wyo.) said assured the air force it could finance a buildup to 143 wings by mid-1933. The present air force is a little over 90 wings.

The final total for the military services will have to be worked out in conference with the House which voted $46,207,000,000. The administration had requested $51,390,000,000.

In approving the armed forces budget on a 66-to-0 roll call vote, the Senate completed its version of all money legislation except a 10-million-dollar supplementary fund now before the Appropriations Committee. A vote on this is expected Thursday.

However, both the Senate and House will have to reconsider eight appropriations bills—in addition to the military budget—which are in conference Committees.

Congress has sent only one money measure to the President but legislators hope to clear all 11 bills before Saturday, a target date they've set for adjournment in order to attend the national political conventions this month.

A major difference between the Senate and House versions of the

Aged Farmhand Is Found Dead

Sam Butkevich, about 75, died of a heart condition while he was cutting wood on an Ulster Park area farm where he had been living the past several months, Coroner Michael A. Galietta and the sheriff's office reported.

Butkevich, a former Brooklyn resident, had been doing light work for his room and board on the John Nakonechney property in Ulster Park, County Investigator Arthur H. Brown reported. He was discovered slumped near a tree he had been trimming about 100 yards from the home about 2 p. m. Monday. He had been in apparent good health, the investigation disclosed.

An autopsy ordered by Coroner Galietta disclosed death was due to an acute coronary condition, and the coroner has issued a verdict of death due to natural causes.

Butkevich had no relatives living in this country. The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the M. A. Galietta Funeral Home in Kingston.

Yellow Oleo Goes on Sale; First Sale Goes to Sponsor

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Upwards of five million pounds of yellow oleo were sped to New York markets today as the state scrapped a 66-year-old ban on sale of the colored spread.

The first reported sale was made at 12:01 a. m. (EST) to Mrs. Genesta M. Strong of Plandome, who sponsored the controversial oleo repealer in the Assembly. The Republican assemblywoman purchased a pound of the margarine at a store in Port Washington on Long Island's north shore.

The store owner said the oleo was delivered by special courier, but would not say exactly how he managed to obtain it so soon after the midnight deadline.

As the Empire state became the 41st to permit sale of the yellow butter substitute, hundreds of trucks that had lined up in bordering states wheeled toward New York markets with cargoes for housewives and some public eating places.

30 Trucks Sent

One New York city distributor (Krafts Foods) highballed 30 trucks through the Holland Tunnel from Jersey City under a police escort. Each vehicle was loaded with 20 tons, or 40,000 pounds, of margarine.

A western New York distributor trucked 600,000 pounds across the line at Erie, Pa. Some of the consignment was rushed to retail outlets by taxicabs.

Syracuse area dealers expected to put out about a million pounds in 24 hours. One firm broke the seals at midnight on a refrigerated freight car loaded with 120,000 pounds.

A law authorizing the requisitioning of doomed cats and dogs for medical research also went into effect at midnight.

The two measures inspired the heaviest verbal sparring of the 1952 legislative session. Both were rammed through the Senate and Assembly with Gov. Dewey's all-out support, but opponents still nurse hopes of reversing the decisions.

Powerful dairy interests and the farm bloc raised the cry that the margarine would be used as a butter counterfeit, thereby hurting the farmers' income.

Anti-vivisectionists led a fierce attack on the legislation providing for the requisitioning of unwanted dogs and cats from pounds for use in state-approved research laboratories.

Red Battalion Attacks in East

Seoul, Korea, July 1 (AP)—A beefed up North Korean battalion attacking through deep mud hit allied lines along a half-mile front in the Heartbreak Ridge sector of eastern Korea last night. But it did not penetrate UN positions.

An army spokesman said "They came up in front of our positions and fired at us * * * but they did not try to penetrate our lines."

The eastern front has been relatively quiet in recent weeks in contrast to savage fighting in the west.

More than 750 North Korean Reds attacked on the east slope of Heartbreak Ridge and at three other points in the same sector after 1,300 artillery and mortar shells fell on UN lines.

Allied troops won Heartbreak Ridge last fall in one of the bloodiest battles of the war.

The Far East Air Forces said its planes flew only 315 sorties Monday, about one-third the usual number.

The Eighth Army said estimated Communist casualties last week totaled 1,536 dead, 1,430 wounded and 33 captured—about 500 more than the previous week.

Will Issue Phone Stock

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The New York Telephone Company will issue 1,400,000 shares of common stock with a par value of $140,000,000 to aid its construction program. The new securities, authorized yesterday by the Public Service Commission, will be sold by July 31 to the utility's parent firm, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. They will raise the New York company's total shares to 7,463,000, with a total par value of $746,300,000, the PSC said. The proceeds of the stock sale will be used to write off $140,000,000 borrowed by the subsidiary for construction work. At a hearing on its request for permission to issue the stock, the company said it had installed more than 600,000 telephones between Oct. 1, 1950, and last May 31. It added that as of June 1 there were 79,000 applicants awaiting installations and 170,000 other customers for whom improved service was planned.

No Confirmation Given

Tokyo, July 1 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters today was unable to confirm a British report that Koje Island prisoners of war planned to break out last Friday. However, interrogation of several prisoners showed that June 25, second anniversary of the war, had been planned, or at least considered as the date for a mass break, a spokesman said. A spokesman at Koje Island said neither he nor Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, camp commandant, knew of any target date in connection with captured Red documents. A British white paper, published in London on the eve of parliamentary debate on the Korea war, said Red prisoners planned to seize control of Koje last Friday. Their plot was disrupted by the premature kidnaping of Brig. Gen. (now Col.) Francis T. Dodd, the paper said.

average of $2.11 an hour in May, counting premium pay, compared with about $1.95 for the USW members.

The USW has signed more than 30 smaller steel firms to new contracts based on the recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board. But none of the six largest steel producers have come to terms with the union, and approximately 600,000 USW men remain idle in their month-long walkout.

Latest to Sign

Latest to sign is Harrisburg, (Pa.) Steel Corp. which employs 1,250 workers. The plant will resume production immediately.

The firm signed a pact last night calling for a wage increase of approximately 15 cents an hour, modified union shop, six paid hoildays and three weeks vacation annually for 15 years service.

The modified union shop means new employes must join the union but can withdraw between their 20th and 30th day of employment.

Meanwhile, leaders of the union are meeting with other small companies across the nation but the sessions are closely guarded secrets—none of the companies has been identified.

Local Oleo Sales Reported Good

Yellow oleomargarine went on sale this morning in New York state for the first time in 66 years and many Kingston retailers reported brisk sales throughout the morning.

Customers were not waiting in line to purchase the butter-colored oleo locally, but merchants said the sales volume was good, considering that the majority of residents do their grocery shopping toward the end of the week.

Where special promotions of various kinds were planned to mark the July 1 repeal of the ban against colored oleo, sales were reported as very high.

Sales 'Normal'

Other markets, planning to tie in their oleo specials with regular weekend promotions, reported this morning's sales as "normal" or a little better.

The Grand Union markets, which had advertised one-cent sales and other inducements to buy oleo today, reported at noon that the colored oleo "went over big" at both the uptown and central stores. In addition, the stores redeemed a large number of coupons that had appeared in an advertisement by Moe Solomon, wholesale distributor, in Monday's Freeman.

For Solomon and other distributors, the problems of delivering the product to retailers meant working all night long.

Hundreds of truckloads of the oleo crossed the New York state border at various points in the early hours today, and metropolitan newspapers reported some caravans of 20 to 40 trucks each came into the state with banners on their sides, "Operation Oleo."

Boxes Are Marked

The new margarine is being sold in one-half and one pound boxes with each quarter pound individually wrapped. To prevent substitution of oleo for butter, the law requires that each box be clearly marked.

Only seven states still prohibit the sale of yellow colored margarine. They are: Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, South Kakota, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 1 (AP)—The stock market continued its strong upward trend today for the fifth straight session with good leadership in major divisions.

Gains ran from fractions to between 1 and 2 points while losses were negligible.

Volume was at a brisk rate, equal to or better than yesterday's larger than usual 1,380,000 shares.

The list drew support from rails, steels, motors, aircrafts, rubbers, non-ferrous metals, oils, radio-televisions, and chemicals.

American Telephone was active and a shade lower, standing alone among leaders on the downside.

Douglas Aircraft was active and higher. Motorola gained nearly 2 points without much activity as a result of the two-for-one split proposal announced yesterday after the market closed.

Steels held steady with small gains most of the time.

Youth Shot During Target Practice

Samuel Griffin, 14, of 5 Carpenter Place, Cranford, N. J., was accidentally shot in his left arm by an air gun while he and a companion were target shooting at Binnewater about 5 p. m. Monday, the sheriff's office reported.

Earl Conro, identification officer of the sheriff's department, reported the accident occurred as young Griffin was taking down a target.

He was hit in the upper left arm by a pellet from a .177 calibre air gun in the hands of Robert Johnson, 15, of Rosendale and Cranford, Conro reported.

Griffin was taken to the Benedictine Hospital for treatment.

Deficit Is 3 Billions

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The budget deficit for fiscal 1952 appears to be about three billion dollars—or 38 per cent—less than President Truman predicted. This was indicated as treasury bookkeepers worked to get together today the final figures for the period, which ended yesterday. With only a couple of days' government accounts to be tallied, prospects were for an outcome about like this, in round figures: spending 67 billion dollars, income 62 billion, resulting deficit 5 billion.

But They Took $7

Newark, N. J., July 1 (AP)—Claude Hammond of New York city was trying to hitch a ride yesterday near Newark Airport. Finally, a sedan carrying three men stopped. One of the men asked Hammond to show some identification, and then he would get a lift. Out came Hammond's wallet, which he promptly handed over to the trio. They took out $7, returned the wallet, and then sped away, Hammond reported to police.

More Hot Weather Abroad

London, July 1 (AP)—Europe got another dose of hot weather today. British judges doffed their traditional white wigs. This was a special concession to the 90 degree heat from the lord chief justice. Forest fires levelled 4,000 acres in southwestern France and sporadic outbreaks occurred in Belgium. The scorching sun brought out the annual crop of channel swimmers, most of them going into training on the English side. But just for variation a 72-year-old Frenchman crossed this morning in a rowboat, then turned around and rowed back.

To Hold News Conference

Washington, July 1 (AP)—President Truman will hold a news conference at 3 p. m. EST Thursday.

Kaman Critical, Mrs. Baker Fair

The condition of Paul Kaman, 3rd, of Hurley, was reported as "still critical" at the Kingston Hospital late this morning.

Kaman, 22, was injured early Sunday morning in a two-car accident on the Onteora Trail (Route 28) near the Ira Saxe farm west of Kingston, the sheriff's office reported. William Joseph Reilly, 25, of 231 Albany avenue, was instantly killed in the same accident.

Mrs. Dorothy Baker, 37, of 20 Augusta street, a passenger in the other vehicle involved, was reported in "fair" condition at the Benedictine Hospital this morning. The sheriff's office, which is continuing its investigation, reported today that examinations disclosed Mrs. Baker's injuries were more serious than at first believed.

Says He'll Be Winner

Washington, July 1 (AP)—Sen. Richard Russell predicts that Democrats will ballot for a presidential candidate more than a half-dozen times, that he will top the first one and wind up the winner. Russell told a news conference yesterday he expects to go to the July 21 Chicago convention with at least 300 of the 616 delegate votes required for nomination. The Georgian said he looks for seven or eight ballots before any nominee-candidate gets a majority. On the first ballot, Russell said, he believes he will be high man or, at least number two. He said he expects his stiffest competition from Senator Estes Kefauver.

Trial Is Resumed

New York, July 1 (AP)—The conspiracy trial of 16 secondary Communist leaders is under way again after a two-week adjournment. They are charged with conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government. The trial was resumed yesterday with one defendant, Marion Bachrach, absent. She became ill last week, and presumably was still sick.

Carrier Rounds Cape

Washington, July 1 (AP)—A U. S. aircraft carrier has rounded Cape Horn for the first time, the navy announced today. Cape Horn is at the southern tip of South America. Too big to go through the Panama Canal, the Oriskany, this nation's fourth largest carrier, passed the Cape in the early hours of June 29, carried a crew of 2,600 and was bound from New York city to the west coast. The three largest carriers, the Franklin D. Roosevelt, Coral Sea and Midway, likewise are too large for the canal and, if ever required for the Pacific Fleet, must follow the trail of Magellan around Cape Horn.

In 1513 Ponce de Leon became the first mariner to record the existence of the Gulf Stream.

Yellow Oleo Goes on Sale; First Sale Goes to Sponsor

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Upwards of five million pounds of yellow oleo were sped to New York markets today as the state scrapped a 66-year-old ban on sale of the colored spread.

The first reported sale was made at 12:01 a. m. (EST) to Mrs. Genesta M. Strong of Plandome, who sponsored the controversial oleo repealer in the Assembly. The Republican assemblywoman purchased a pound of the margarine at a store in Port Washington on Long Island's north shore.

The store owner said the oleo was delivered by special courier, but would not say exactly how he managed to obtain it so soon after the midnight deadline.

As the Empire state became the 41st to permit sale of the yellow butter substitute, hundreds of trucks that had lined up in bordering states wheeled toward New York markets with cargoes for housewives and some public eating places.

80 Trucks Sent

One New York city distributor (Krafts Foods) highballed 30 trucks through the Holland Tunnel from Jersey City under a police escort. Each vehicle was loaded with 20 tons, or 40,000 pounds, of margarine.

A western New York distributor trucked 600,000 pounds across the line at Erie, Pa. Some of the consignment was rushed to retail outlets by taxicabs.

Syracuse area dealers expected to put out about a million pounds in 24 hours. One firm broke the seals at midnight on a refrigerated freight car loaded with 120,000 pounds.

A law authorizing the requisitioning of doomed cats and dogs for medical research also went into effect at midnight.

The two measures inspired the heaviest verbal sparring of the 1952 legislative session. Both were rammed through the Senate and Assembly with Gov. Dewey's all-out support, but opponents still nurse hopes of reversing the decisions.

Powerful dairy interests and the farm bloc raised the cry that the margarine would be used as a butter counterfeit, thereby hurting the farmers' income.

Anti-vivisectionists led a fierce attack on the legislation providing for the requisitioning of unwanted dogs and cats from pounds for use in state-approved research laboratories.

Red Battalion Attacks in East

Seoul, Korea, July 1 (AP)—A beefed up North Korean battalion attacking through deep mud hit allied lines along a half-mile front in the Heartbreak Ridge sector of eastern Korea last night. But it did not penetrate UN positions.

An army spokesman said "They came up in front of our positions and fired at us * * * but they did not try to penetrate our lines."

The eastern front has been relatively quiet in recent weeks in contrast to savage fighting in the west.

More than 750 North Korean Reds attacked on the east slope of Heartbreak Ridge and at three other points in the same sector after 1,300 artillery and mortar shells fell on UN lines.

Allied troops won Heartbreak Ridge last fall in one of the bloodiest battles of the war.

Continued rain and low clouds hampered aerial operations Tuesday.

The Far East Air Forces said its planes flew only 315 sorties Monday, about one-third the usual number.

The Eighth Army said estimated Communist casualties last week totaled 1,536 dead, 1,430 wounded and 33 captured—about 500 more than the previous week.

Will Issue Phone Stock

Albany, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The New York Telephone Company will issue 1,400,000 shares of common stock with a par value of $140,000,000 to aid its construction program. The new securities, authorized yesterday by the Public Service Commission, will be sold by July 31 to the utility's parent firm, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. They will raise the New York company's total shares to 7,463,000, with a total par value of $746,300,000, the PSC said. The proceeds of the stock sale will be used to write off $140,000,000 borrowed by the subsidiary for construction work. At a hearing on its request for permission to issue the stock, the company said it had installed more than 600,000 telephones between Oct. 1, 1950, and last May 31. It added that as of June 1 there were 79,000 applicants awaiting installations and 170,000 other customers for whom improved service was planned.

No Confirmation Given

Tokyo, July 1 (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters today was unable to confirm a British report that Koje Island prisoners of war planned to break out last Friday. However, interrogation of several prisoners showed that June 25, second anniversary of the war, had been planned, or at least considered as the date for a mass break, a spokesman said. A spokesman at Koje Island said neither he nor Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, camp commandant, knew of any target date in connection with captured Red documents. A British white paper, published in London on the eve of parliamentary debate on the Korea war, said Red prisoners planned to seize control of Koje last Friday. Their plot was disrupted by the premature kidnaping of Brig. Gen. (now Col.) Francis T. Dodd, the paper said.

Weirton Asks Right

average of $2.11 an hour in May, counting premium pay, compared with about $1.95 for the USW members.

The USW has signed more than 30 smaller steel firms to new contracts based on the recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board. But none of the six largest steel producers have come to terms with the union, and approximately 600,000 USW men remain idle in their month-long walkout.

Latest to Sign

Latest to sign is Harrisburg, (Pa.) Steel Corp. which employs 1,250 workers. The plant will resume production immediately.

The firm signed a pact last night calling for a wage increase of approximately 15 cents an hour, modified union shop, six paid holidays and three weeks vacation annually for 15 years service.

The modified union shop means new employes must join the union but can withdraw between their 20th and 30th day of employment.

Meanwhile, leaders of the union are meeting with other small companies across the nation but the sessions are closely guarded secrets—none of the companies has been identified.

Local Oleo Sales Reported Good

Yellow oleomargarine went on sale this morning in New York state for the first time in 66 years and many Kingston retailers reported brisk sales throughout the morning.

Customers were not waiting in line to purchase the butter-colored oleo locally, but merchants said the sales volume was good, considering that the majority of residents do their grocery shopping toward the end of the week.

Where special promotions of various kinds were planned to mark the July 1 repeal of the ban against colored oleo, sales were reported as very high.

Sales 'Normal'

Other markets, planning to tie in their oleo specials with regular weekend promotions, reported this morning's sales as "normal" or a little better.

The Grand Union markets, which had advertised one-cent sales and other inducements to buy oleo today, reported at noon that the colored oleo "went over big" at both the uptown and central stores. In addition, the stores redeemed a large number of coupons that had appeared in an advertisement by Moe Solomon, wholesale distributor, in Monday's Freeman.

For Solomon and other distributors, the problems of delivering the product to retailers meant working all night long.

Hundreds of truckloads of the oleo crossed the New York state border at various points in the early hours today, and metropolitan newspapers reported some caravans of 20 to 40 trucks each came into the state with banners on their sides, "Operation Oleo."

Boxes Are Marked

The new margarine is being sold in one-half and one pound boxes with each quarter pound individually wrapped. To prevent substitution of oleo for butter, the law requires that each box be clearly marked.

Only seven states still prohibit the sale of yellow colored margarine. They are: Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, South Kakota, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 1 (AP)—The stock market continued its strong upward trend today for the fifth straight session with good leadership in major divisions.

Gains ran from fractions to between 1 and 2 points while losses were negligible.

Volume was at a brisk rate, equal to or better than yesterday's larger than usual 1,380,000 shares.

The list drew support from rails, steels, motors, aircrafts, rubbers, non-ferrous metals, oils, radio-televisions, and chemicals.

American Telephone was active and a shade lower, standing alone among leaders on the downside.

Douglas Aircraft was active and higher. Motorola gained nearly 2 points without much activity as a result of the two-for-one split proposal announced yesterday after the market closed.

Steels held steady with small gains most of the time.

Youth Shot During Target Practice

Samuel Griffin, 14, of 5 Carpenter Place, Cranford, N. J., was accidentally shot in his left arm by an air gun while he and a companion were target shooting at Binnewater about 5 p. m. Monday, the sheriff's office reported.

Earl Conro, identification officer of the sheriff's department, reported the accident occurred as young Griffin was taking down a target.

He was hit in the upper left arm by a pellet from a .177 calibre air gun in the hands of Robert Johnson, 15, of Rosendale and Cranford, Conro reported.

Griffin was taken to the Benedictine Hospital for treatment.

Deficit Is 3 Billions

Washington, July 1 (AP)—The budget deficit for fiscal 1952 appears to be about three billion dollars—or 38 per cent—less than President Truman predicted. This was indicated as treasury bookkeepers worked to get together today the final figures for the period, which ended yesterday. With only a couple of days' government accounts to be tallied, prospects were for an outcome about like this, in round figures: spending 67 billion dollars, income 62 billion, resulting deficit 5 billion.

But They Took $7

Newark, N. J., July 1 (AP)—Claude Hammond of New York city was trying to hitch a ride yesterday near Newark Airport. Finally, a sedan carrying three men stopped. One of the men asked Hammond to show some identification, and then he would get a lift. Out came Hammond's wallet, which he promptly handed over to the trio. They took out $7, returned the wallet, and then sped away, Hammond reported to police.

Kaman Critical, Mrs. Baker Fair

The condition of Paul Kaman, 3rd, of Hurley, was reported as "still critical" at the Kingston Hospital late this morning.

Kaman, 22, was injured early Sunday morning in a two-car accident on the Onteora Trail (Route 28) near the Ira Saxe farm west of Kingston, the sheriff's office reported. William Joseph Reilly, 25, of 231 Albany avenue, was instantly killed in the same accident.

Mrs. Dorothy Baker, 37, of 20 Augusta street, a passenger in the other vehicle involved, was reported in "fair" condition at the Benedictine Hospital this morning. The sheriff's office, which is continuing its investigation, reported today that examinations disclosed Mrs. Baker's injuries were more serious than at first believed.

Says He'll Be Winner

Washington, July 1 (AP)—Sen. Richard Russell predicts that Democrats will ballot for a presidential candidate more than a half-dozen times, that he will top the first one and wind up the winner. Russell told a news conference yesterday he expects to go to the July 21 Chicago convention with at least 300 of the 616 delegate votes required for nomination. The Georgian said he looks for seven or eight ballots before any nominee-candidate gets a majority. On the first ballot, Russell said, he believes he will be high man or, at least number two. He said he expects his stiffest competition from Senator Estes Kefauver.

Trial Is Resumed

New York, July 1 (AP)—The conspiracy trial of 16 secondary Communist leaders is under way again after a two-week adjournment. They are charged with conspiracy to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government. The trial was resumed yesterday with one defendant, Marion Bachrach, absent. She became ill last week, and presumably was still sick.

More Hot Weather Abroad

London, July 1 (AP)—Europe got another dose of hot weather today. British judges doffed their traditional white wigs. This was a special concession to the 90 degree heat from the lord chief justice. Forest fires levelled 4,000 acres in southwestern France and sporadic outbreaks occurred in Belgium. The scorching sun brought out the annual crop of channel swimmers, most of them going into training on the English side. But just for variation a 72-year-old Frenchman crossed this morning in a rowboat, then turned around and rowed back.

To Hold News Conference

Washington, July 1 (AP)—President Truman will hold a news conference at 3 p. m. EST Thursday.

Carrier Rounds Cape

Washington, July 1 (AP)—A U. S. aircraft carrier has rounded Cape Horn for the first time, the navy announced today. Cape Horn is at the southern tip of South America. Too big to go through the Panama Canal, the Oriskany, this nation's fourth largest carrier, passed the Cape in the early hours of June 29, carried a crew of 2,600 and was bound from New York city to the west coast. The three largest carriers, the Franklin D. Roosevelt, Coral Sea and Midway, likewise are too large for the canal and, if ever required for the Pacific Fleet, must follow the trail of Magellan around Cape Horn.

In 1513 Ponce de Leon became the first mariner to record the existence of the Gulf Stream.

And Six Were Ill

Utica, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The fire was confined to a waste basket, but a captain, two lieutenants and three firemen were hospitalized overnight. The blaze broke out last night in a container in the basement of a downtown store. The firemen were overcome by carbon tetrachloride fumes from seven extinguishers set off by the heat.

Barth Is Elected County Leader By Legion Group

CHESTER W. BARTH

At its annual convention, Monday night, Ulster County American Legion elected Chester W. Barth commander for the ensuing year.

Barth, chosen at the session in Town of Esopus Auditorium, Port Ewen, is one of the youngest veterans ever named to head the organization.

A World War 2 veteran, Barth is a past commander of Esopus Post, 1298, which he served as leader in 1948, and since then as adjutant.

During the war, Barth was with the 78th Division in the European theatre. He joined the Legion on return to civilian life and has been active in promoting its programs for ex-servicemen ever since.

Barth was active in helping form Esopus Post, which he served as third commander, and in purchasing the Legion home in Port Ewen.

Delegates from all sectors of Ulster county attended Monday's session.

Legionnaires elected to serve with Commander Barth were:

Joseph Friberg, Olive Memorial Post 1627, Ashokan, vice commander.

Edgar Maurer, Town of Esopus Post, adjutant.

Joseph Hoffman, Town of Marbletown Post, treasurer (re-elected).

Clarance E. Brown, Kingston Post 150, chaplain.

Donald Moore, Kingston Post 150, service officer (re-elected).

As commander, Barth will head the delegation of 13 from Ulster County American Legion to the Department of New York convention the latter part of July in Saratoga Springs.

Following last night's election a reception was held in Town of Esopus Post's home on Legion Court, Port Ewen.

Car Blaze Is Doused With Pail of Water

Ordinarily the fire department goes to the fire but the procedure was reversed at 8:50 p. m. Monday when John Meyer of Cottekill pulled up in front of the Cornell Station on Abeel street with the front seat of his 1941 sedan on fire.

The blaze was nipped by an alert fireman who dashed out with a pail of water.

Bakery Strike Off

New York, July 1 (AP)—A threatened strike by 3,000 bakery employes that would have cut off 70 per cent of the city's supply of wrapped white bread failed to materialize this morning as the union and the companies involved agreed to further negotiation sessions set for this afternoon at the Hotel Governor Clinton.

YM Camp to Run For Eight Weeks Instead of Six

The YMCA Pine Knoll Day Camp will operate for eight weeks instead of six, due to popular demand, it was announced today.

Camp Director Lou Schafer has requested parents interested in having their children attend during the last two weeks to notify him at the YMCA in order that he may make his plans accordingly.

Second week of the camp has opened with a fine enrollment, Schafer said, pointing out that although "a couple of young campers dropped out, 13 new boys and girls were added."

The first week of the camp was the hottest for any opening week during the last 10 years, Schafer said. He said that there were a few cases of sunburn but that "constant attention in the open play spaces and at the water front" prevented a larger number. During the noon hour longer rest periods were taken in order to keep the boys and girls idle during the hot spell, he pointed out, with competitive and running games almost eliminated entirely.

Schafer said that many boys and girls had made a good start in their swimming, especially those in the beginners' class. Many of the skills and stunts in the beginners' Minnow Club have been mastered he said. Some of the swimmers will be taking tests for Fish and Flying Fish ratings also, he pointed out.

Schafer said that, weather normal, a full schedule of activities would be in progress this week but that there would be no camp Friday, July 4.

WHY IS RUSSIA QUIET?

Amateurs always know better than professionals, or think they do. For reasons best known to the Kremlin, Russia has refrained from stirring up trouble in explosive Iran. It lies next door to Russia. Its great national industry, oil, is in chaos because of the eviction of the British owners. Its national finances are disorganized in consequence. Iran would, therefore, seem made to order for Russian intrigue and a seizure control. Yet nothing has happened. A simultaneous attack in Iran and Korea, with a stepping-up of the Communist revolt in Indo-China, would tax and even bewilder the Western world.

An old time Philadelphia political boss laid down the principle that big steals should be attempted not one at a time, but several simultaneously. Such boldness would engender public despair. His theory did not work out. One steal, bigger than all the rest, aroused the sleepy citizens, and the boss was overthrown.

Maybe the Kremlin thinks that audacity should be moderate.

TV IN POLITICS

Senator Estes Kefauver's television appearance has admittedly helped his presidential candidacy. More feats like this may be in store for this new form of communication. Yet TV's predecessor, radio, has not lived up to the predictions that it would force an entirely new type of candidate.

President Roosevelt's career was undoubtedly aided by his good radio voice. A poor radio personality injured Governor Landon in the 1936 campaign, though his cause was probably hopeless in any case. The smooth radio appearance and the voice of Governor Dewey helped him to win two nominations. Yet this is a rather small total when we come to assess the influence of radio.

It would be undesirable to have a candidate's mental equipment judged chiefly by his appearance on the TV screen. And yet how many opinions on persons in every day life are based on nothing more substantial!

EXIT MOUNT EVEREST

If you speak of Mt. Everest in China, you run the risk of arrest. The term to use is Chomolungma, or "Water of the Sacred Mother." The cause of this change is probably dislike that the world's highest mountain should be named for an English surveyor. China cannot get rid of everything English, but it is making a start.

Changes of long-established geographic names are often silly, especially when the purpose is not to avoid confusion between similarly styled natural objects, but merely to grind political axes. The Russians are changing the names of Koenigsberg and other German cities in the part of Germany which they control, as one step toward wiping out German traditions. Perhaps all that such changes will accomplish like the one affecting Mt. Everest, is to make geography harder.

THOSE WEEDS

"Yes," said the owner of a summer cottage which had been rented for a time, "my tenants were good enough, but they thought that I had put the weeds there on purpose, and would not think of touching them."

Many a house owner has wished that his own feelings and those of others would permit him to grow weeds instead of grass and flowers. Nothing is prettier than a dandelion in full bloom. If it could only stay that way, most people would hesitate to pull it.

Probably if a man did specialize on weeds, they would fade and die, crowded out by the persistent grass.

The girl across the street is perturbed because she has learned that baseball fans do not help to keep the crowd cool at the games.

Bob Hope and Bing Crosby, two of the most popular figures on the American entertainment scene, raised over $1,000,000 recently to send the American Olympic team to Helsinki this year. The Olympic fund was short $500,000 of the figure needed to send the American team to the Olympic games and Hope and Crosby volunteered their services on a 14 hour television program. Contributions poured in from all parts of the country and the pair raised over twice as much money as they started out to do.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE INVESTIGATIVE COMMITTEE

When Harry Truman is no longer President of the United States and, in the distant future, historians research his Administration, they will wonder at the depth of his dislike for Congress of which he used to be a member. It will also be puzzling to understand his bitter opposition to Congressional committees.

The McCarran Committee, for instance, has comported itself beyond criticism. It has prepared its cases with meticulous regard to the rights of individuals; it has avoided the charge of pillorying individuals for remote and insignficant errors; it has given the person under investigation every opportunity to state his case.

Yet, this committee, which was not investigating corruption in the Truman Administration but subversion in the United States, encountered as much opposition as the old Dies Committee did at the hands of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. What can the reason be, except that the President objects to anyone interfering with what he regards as his private affair, namely, the Government of the United States?

The Washington correspondent of the London "Economist" provides a curious overtone to this inquiry into the President's mind, for he, too, apparently disapproves of Senator McCarran and so tells his British audience. This is what he says:

"The Democratic Senator from Nevada, who is using his Senate Judiciary sub-committee on internal security to uncover what he terms 'this gigantic conspiracy,' is practising a technique perfected by his somewhat more notorious Republican colleague from Wisconsin, Senator Joseph McCarthy. It is a technique which shocks many decent-minded Americans because it seeks to dress the committee hearings in something like the robes—or at the least the language—of a court of law and yet makes nonsense of the accepted practices of legal procedure. It is already abundantly clear that Senator McCarran and his committee intend, if they can, to bring about the jailing, on perjury charges, of Professor Owen Lattimore, of Johns-Hopkins University, and Mr. Joseph Barnes, well-known as a newspaperman.

"Both Professor Lattimore and Mr. Barnes were closely associated for a number of years before the war with the Institute of Pacific Relations, a body dedicated to the non-partisan study of the Far East. . . ."

True, this was written last summer before the seven volumes of the record of the investigation into the Institute of Pacific Relations were published. This was written before the State Department refused to give Profesor Lattimore a passport to travel abroad.

The intensity of the attack on the committee by this magazine is particularly interesting because it has generally reflected the views of the State Department except in instances when the British differ from Dean Acheson—which is not often.

It is impossible to believe that any man who is President of the United States would be sympathetic with a conspiracy to defeat the United States in Asia. Nothing has given the President more unpleasant days than his failure in China. Yet, he has not cooperated with any Congressional committee in trying to discover the cause of the disaster there and in Korea.

In fact, he has gone to the opposite extreme. Like the Washington correspondent of the London "Economist," the President has turned his back on everyone who sought to do anything constructive in the Far East.

He had General Albert C. Wedemeyer taken out of a field in which he was expert. Wedemeyer was so abused that he retired from his career in the Army. Truman dismissed General Douglas MacArthur, who had worked in the Far East longer than any other army officer and whose testimony before the Russell Committee has been borne out by subsequent events. The President has nicknamed friends of China, the "China lobby," and has persecuted individuals whom he designates as such, calling them liars.

It is a puzzling attitude, particularly as he must know from FBI reports, if from no other source, that the Soviet conspiracy is extraordinarily active in this country now as it has been throughout his Administration. The atom bomb and other military secrets were stolen, and since he has been President, Alger Hiss, his red-herring, has been convicted after two public trials and the verdict has been upheld by the Supreme Court.

It is an astonishing psychology—that of the President. He must dislike those who do disservice to America; yet he will not cooperate with the very Congressional committees that can establish the facts.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

SEVERE TYPE OF COLITIS

Colitis, generally speaking, is inflammation (really irritation) of the lining of the colon (the large intestine). In the simple form of colitis, there is constant diarrhea with the formation of considerable mucus. Eating soft foods and avoiding emotional disturbances is the usual treatment.

However, what is known as ulcerative colitis is a serious matter, as there is actual inflammation of the lining of the colon with ulcer formation and pouring out of blood and pus on the lining surface of the bowel.

While the beginning symptoms of ulcerative colitis are believed to be due to worry and other emotional disturbances, it is thought that rough foods and infections cause the development of this surface inflammation. With this drain on the strength of the patient, surgical operation with removal of part of the colon was the only form of treatment known until recently, when the sulfa drugs and penicillin were found to give good results. However, with the use of the miracle drug, corticotropin, physicians found that they had a successful method of treatment of this dread disease.

In Gastroenterology (stomach and intestines), Drs. J. M. Elliott, E. D. Adams, S. Sloan and others report 33 cases of chronic ulcerative colitis in which corticotropin (ACTH) was administered. These patients received the usual supportive treatment of bed rest, quieting drugs, liberal doses of vitamins and a concentrated bland high protein diet. Some were given blood transfusions and some antibiotic (germ-killing) drugs. The daily dose of cortocotropin started at from 20 to 40 mg., which during four or five days was increased to the maximal dosage, usually 100 to 120 mg. per day. The highest dose was 180 mg. The daily amount was divided into three or four injections into the muscles. After several days on the full dosage the amount was gradually reduced to from 20 to 40 mg. in two injections. Treatment was continuous for from 10 to 31 days, the total dosage ranging from 900 to 2,500 mg.

These physicians do not claim that corticotropin is a "cure" for ulcerative colitis, but it keeps the symptoms within reasonable bounds so that the patient doesn't suffer too much. This treatment is an improvement on other methods and may make operation unnecessary.

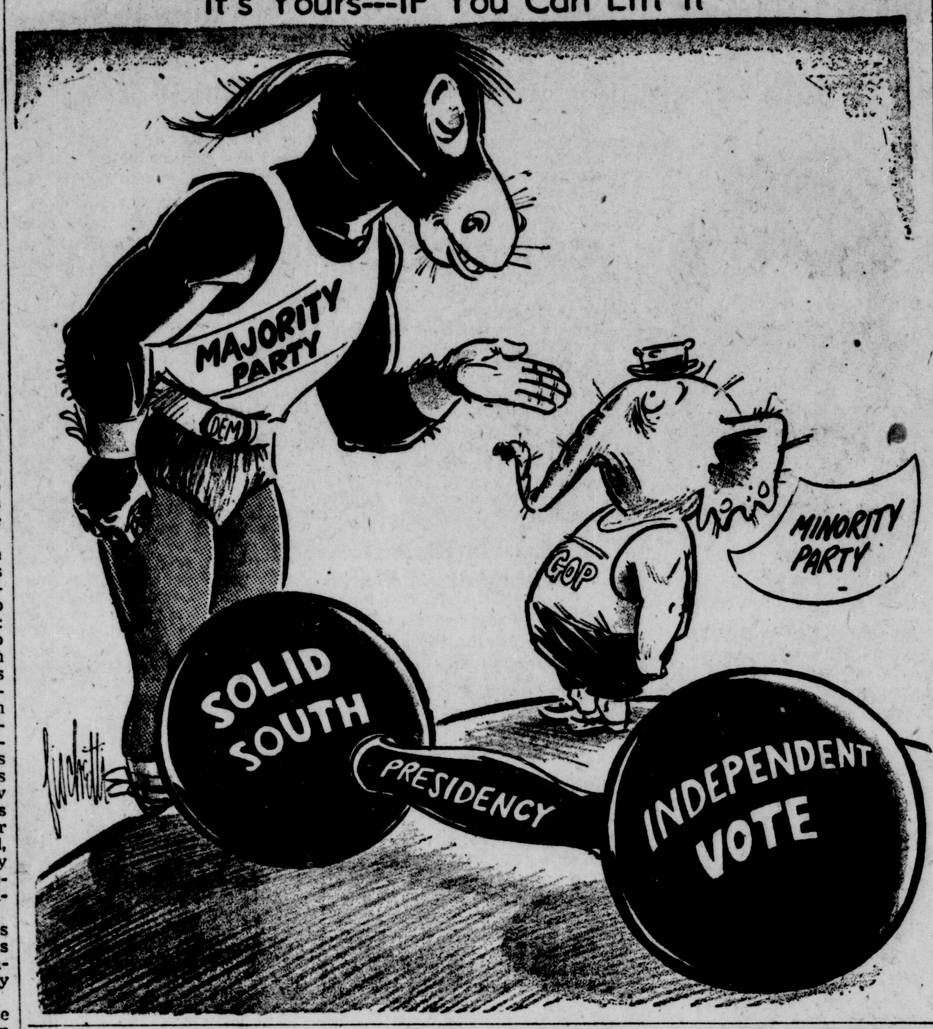
"It's Yours---IF You Can Lift It"



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — In Republican cloakrooms on Capitol Hill where they really let their hair down in hot weather, the GOP strategy on price control is discussed something like this:

"If we pass a weak price control bill, Truman will veto it. Then if prices rise, we can blame him for having no price controls at all.

"Or, if we pass a weak bill and Truman doesn't veto it, it will be impossible of enforcement and Truman will get the blame for not keeping prices down. So its heads we win, tails the Democrats lose."

This is a raw way of putting it, but in an election year strategy can be pretty raw indeed. And this rawboned strategy has influenced many GOP congressmen, despite the following none-too-happy factors on the economic horizon:

1. Prices are now at an all-time high.

2. The dumping of a large amount of government securities on the market will certainly lead to more inflation.

3. Business is experiencing a new upturn after being in the semi-doldrums for some time.

4. Defense orders, which haven't been placed in nearly as large a volume as the Pentagon would have you believe, are now reaching a peak. This is where controls create the greatest national saving.

Note—Though Republicans may be to blame for the present stymie on controls, the administration wasted priceless time immediately after the Korean war started when it did not take advantage of a price control act handed it by Congress.

Pan American Airways Gravy

Certain congressmen tried to camouflage it, but the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee voted out an airline subsidy bill the other day that was exactly what Pan American Airways had ordered. The effect was the same as if the congressmen had voted to shift $17,000,000 a year from the taxpayers' pockets to Panam's treasury.

The bill had been greased to slip through Congress early in June, as the result of a preliminary 16 to 1 vote. However, when this column exposed the amazing backstage wire pulling by the Pan Am lobby, it threw the committee into an uproar and delayed the bill for a few weeks. The publicity resulted in seven congressmen switching their votes, but failed to stop the Pan Am subsidy which was adopted by a secret 14 to 8 vote.

Because of the bad publicity, the congressmen took the precaution of doctoring up the bill with amendments, so it wouldn't resemble the original Pan Am bill too closely. But beneath the fancy language, it still means $17,000,000 to Pan American Airways.

The bill pretends to separate air mail pay from government subsidy, but instead of basing mail pay on the cost plus a reasonable profit, the bill pegs the mail carrying charges at an inflated, arbitrary rate. Result is that Pan Am would draw an extra $17,000,000 a year, and the public would be deceived into thinking this was fair compensation for carrying the mails.

Pan Am's publicity experts have been putting out the story that they are entitled to the extra mail subsidy in order to pay for defense features that the airlines have been asked to build into 331 planes. The truth is, however, that the cost of defense modification is paid by an extra $70,000,000 direct from the air force. Not one cent for this comes out of air mail subsidies. No matter how you look at it, the inflated subsidies are still gravy. Instead of financing defense features in planes, these subsidies really contribute to the plush salaries paid to airline executives, the fancy parties thrown for congressmen, and orchids given to lady passengers.

The Secret Vote

Chairman Robert Crosser, Ohio Democrat, was so concerned over the committee's earlier bad publicity received in this column, that he issued a strict warning against leaking out the secret vote. Nevertheless, here is how each member voted: Those for Pan Am were: Democrats—Priest of Tennessee, Harris of Arkansas, Rogers of Florida, Stanley of Virginia, and Roberts of Alabama; Republicans—Hinshaw of California, Hall of New York, O'Hara of Minnesota, Hale of Maine, Doliver of Iowa, Bennett of Michigan, Hoffman of Illinois, Chenoweth of Colorado and Beamer of Indiana.

Those voting against Pan Am were: Democrats—Klein of New York, Granahan of Pennsylvania, Williams of Mississippi, Thornberry of Texas, Heller of New York, and Moulder of Missouri; plus two Republicans, Wolverton of New Jersey and Heselton of Massachusetts.

Chairman Crosser didn't vote on the grounds that the chairman is supposed to cast his ballot only in case of a tie. On less ticklish matters, however, Crosser hasn't hesitated to vote in the past. Another congressman who got cold feet was McGuire of Connecticut, who left the committee room five minutes before the roll call. Both Crosser and McGuire have admitted privately that they have been under terrific pressure from the Democratic bosses back home to go along with Pan Am.

Perverted Economy

One of the most amazing comments was made by Congressman Beamer, who votes for tremendous economy cuts that have no chance of passing. In answer to the argument that the Pan Am bill would cost the government $29,000,000 extra a year ($17,000,000 going to Pan Am, the rest to other airlines), Beamer snorted: "I don't think $29,000,000 is much of a saving."

No matter how much they try to disguise the fact, the congressmen knew they were voting against the taxpayers and for Pan Am. They may discover in November, however that the taxpayers have more votes than Pan Am.

Note—Pan American officials threw a party for the committee at the exclusive Belle Haven country club; while Pan Am Vice President J. Carroll Cone bought a $200 Jefferson-Jackson dinner for Congressman Harris of Arkansas and wife. Harris introduced the Pam Am Bill.

Delegate Totals Construed as Meaning Little With Respect to Any Candidate

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 1—By one device or another, the public has been led to believe that all one has to do to figure out the probable nominee of the Republican National Convention is to look at the tabulation of delegates as claimed thus far by the rival candidates or their managers and interpret the trend.

The truth is the delegate totals mean very little with respect to any candidate.

Another fallacy is that politicians control the national conventions and that public opinion has little influence on the delegates.

After having attended 18 national conventions, this writer is of the belief that public opinion has more to do with the final selections than the so-called professional politicians.

Again and again, just before a convention, the predictions as to who would be nominated, based on the supposedly high delegate total, have proved wrong. Thus, in 1912 when the supporters of Speaker Champ Clark had more than a majority and were close to the necessary two-thirds in the Democratic National Convention, few disinterested observers gave Woodrow Wilson much of a chance. Then came the sensational events which cut through the convention like a knife and forced issue after issue in spectacular fashion as William Jennings Bryan, thrice defeated as a Democratic candidate, drew the lines between progressivism and standpatism. He demanded that the delegates choose between a progressive and standpatter for temporary chairman. Then the governor of New Jersey, Woodrow Wilson, was the only one to line up on the progressive side, while the managers of Champ Clark failed to see the political implications of their defense of Judge Alton B. Parker, the standpat Democrat who was elected temporary chairman of the convention 579 to 508. It was a pyrrhic victory for the conservatives. It started the ball rolling toward the eventual nomination of Wilson, despite the fact that Clark had passed the majority mark.

History can repeat itself at the 1952 Republican National Convention because there are three spectacular moves open to the forces of General Eisenhower which can alter the whole psychology of the convention and influence the outcome.

First, there's a fight that will come when the convention delegates, by a roll-call vote, must go on record on a change in the rules which will forbid contested delegates to vote on their own or other contests.

Second, there's the fight on whether the Texas and Louisiana delegations representing Taft or Eisenhower shall be seated.

Third, there's the fight on what the foreign-policy plank of the party shall say about cooperation with Europe, American policy in Asia and economic aid.

On the third of these moves, there may come a fundamental split in party policy which could make the nomination not worth having for Mr. Taft, and it is well understood that General Eisenhower will repudiate any foreign-policy plank that has not met with his approval. It will be recalled that, after the 1928 Democratic convention, Governor Al Smith, as the party nominee, announced that he accepted the platform in every respect except one—that dealing with prohibition. There have been other instances in which candidates interpreted certain platform planks to fit their own way of thinking after the convention was adjourned and the heat of the campaign battle compelled interpretation.

In the debate on the foreign-policy plank delegates will be influenced by public opinion and their concept of what the voters want. Foreign policy is the real basis of difference between Taft and Eisenhower.

The Taft managers would be smart to yield on all three major points at issue—though they run the risk psychologically of seeming to have lost control of the majority at the convention. One thing is sure—the uncommitted and some of the committed delegates will find themselves deciding for Taft or Eisenhower when they vote on the three above-mentioned points of dispute. All three questions will be disposed of before the balloting on the nomination starts.

On the outcome of the platform fight will depend also whether the Republicans can hope to gather to their side a large share of the independent vote which is so important for them to win if they are to increase substantially the regular Republican vote which wasn't enough for victory in any of the last four presidential elections.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Any Negroes who have been fooled by the pretense which has been an important part of Eleanor Roosevelt's political front since 1933 will do themselves a service by reading her published thoughts on segregation in employment which are contained in the first of her massive incoherencies, the book called "This Is My Story." This work was published in the first Roosevelt administration and was the first major exploitation for personal profit of the tragic mistake of the American people in electing the head of this aggregation of graceless profiteers in human misery and confusion and national calamity.

As we all know now, La Boca Grande has gone in for ostentatious association with Negroes, usually persons with notorious records in the official files of the Committee on Un-American Activities. Some of our Negro fellow citizens, but by no means all, have been naive enough to accept this studied by-play as proof that she abhors racial discrimination. An avowed enemy is preferable to a false friend and I earnestly insist that a colored man or woman of character and dignity should have more respect for Jimmy Byrnes, the governor of South Carolina, who frankly holds with segregation and gives his reasons, however flimsy they may seem, to a faker who whoops up FEPC with the criminal proviso, but takes a personal exception for herself. Mr. Byrnes is not an enemy of Negroes but he is a forthright opponent on this issue.

In Chapter 17, headed "Readjustment," the empress is telling about her return from abroad just after World War I, to discover that the servants in their Washington household had been at daggers drawn in their absence. Franklin, the slacker, all six-feet-two of him, had ridden out the war as Assistant Secretary of the Navy and you gather that mama's boy, who was married and a father before it occurred to him to try work, was living high on income from his mama. Mama got it from the estate left by her father, the old opium smuggler of the China trade; from non-union coal mines in Pennsylvania where the family maintained gunmen to keep union organizers out and company stores to prey upon the miners; and from miscellaneous sources, probably no less nefarious. At any rate, mama's boy and his wife and those sterling characters, Jimmy, Elliott and Franklin lived the luxurious life in a rented house with at least four and probably one or two more negroes to cook and do around for them.

They had been so long away in Europe, at government expense, you may be sure, that "drastic steps had to be taken." Two servants quit and returned to New York and Eleanor decided "that it would be simpler if I took colored servants who could be obtained in Washington which would obviate my having to go to New York to find white ones."

Now this is precisely the crime that is condemned by Harry Truman's weird board, secretly packed by Felix Frankfurter's White House soulmate, David K. Niles. Truman would punish such discrimination with prison terms and fines under federal law. This is discrimination because of race. It is, in fact, genocide. La Boca found, as thousands of other employers have found, that white and Negro employes sometimes magnify into serious issues difficulties which would be trivial without the racial factor. A big corporation, buying human services for a given price, does not care whether the work is done by a white man or a Negro. The objections come from the workers who, ironically, nevertheless, have been voting time and again since 1932 for politicians who would harness them together and make them stay hitched, though many would let blood in rebellion until they got used to it as they have in baseball.

But the great and gracious double-dealer, who runs with Mary McLeod Bethune, Channing Tobias and other colored habitual denizens of index IX of the House Committee report, could not take the trouble to endure the problems of racial irritation in her own house. Instead, "in a day or two, I had a new cook, kitchenmaid, butler and housemaid," all Negroes.

Now she falls into that patronizing mood which has driven into furies some Negroes who nevertheless delight to grovel at her throne.

"Perhaps," she says, "it is my early association with Auntie Grace, and her tales of the old and much-loved colored people on the plantation" — the Aunt Jemima motive — "perhaps, it is just the southern blood" — and there is a problem in biology for Howard University to tackle — "the southern blood of my ancestors, but, ever since I have been in Washington, I have enjoyed my contact with such colored people as came to work for me. I have never regretted the change which I made when I completely staffed my house with colored servants."

A friend had told her that "properly trained," as perhaps one might train a pet or steed, "colored people were the most faithful and efficient servants in the world" and she admired a nameless Negro whom she called a "Mammy."

The confessions of the Roosevelts' housekeeper during the long presidency frankly allowed that it was too much trouble for La Boca to manage a mixed crew, thus confirming, as of much more recent date, the policy which the FEPC would make felonious. A true copy of the text of the Warm Springs deed with the African exclusion clause, signed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, will be presented in due course.

WHY IS RUSSIA QUIET?

Amateurs always know better than professionals, or think they do. For reasons best known to the Kremlin, Russia has refrained from stirring up trouble in explosive Iran. It lies next door to Russia. Its great national industry, oil, is in chaos because of the eviction of the British owners. Its national finances are disorganized in consequence. Iran would, therefore, seem made to order for Russian intrigue and a seizure control. Yet nothing has happened. A simultaneous attack in Iran and Korea, with a stepping-up of the Communist revolt in Indo-China, would tax and even bewilder the Western world.

An old time Philadelphia political boss laid down the principle that big steals should be attempted not one at a time, but several simultaneously. Such boldness would engender public despair. His theory did not work out. One steal, bigger than all the rest, aroused the sleepy citizens, and the boss was overthrown.

Maybe the Kremlin thinks that audacity should be moderate.

TV IN POLITICS

Senator Estes Kefauver's television appearance has admittedly helped his presidential candidacy. More feats like this may be in store for this new form of communication. Yet TV's predecessor, radio, has not lived up to the predictions that it would force an entirely new type of candidate.

President Roosevelt's career was undoubtedly aided by his good radio voice. A poor radio personality injured Governor Landon in the 1936 campaign, though his cause was probably hopeless in any case. The smooth radio appearance and the voice of Governor Dewey helped him to win two nominations. Yet this is a rather small total when we come to assess the influence of radio.

It would be undesirable to have a candidate's mental equipment judged chiefly by his appearance on the TV screen. And yet how many opinions on persons in every day life are based on nothing more substantial!

EXIT MOUNT EVEREST

If you speak of Mt. Everest in China, you run the risk of arrest. The term to use is Chomolungma, or "Water of the Sacred Mother." The cause of this change is probably dislike that the world's highest mountain should be named for an English surveyor. China cannot get rid of everything English, but it is making a start.

Changes of long-established geographic names are often silly, especially when the purpose is not to avoid confusion between similarly styled natural objects, but merely to grind political axes. The Russians are changing the names of Koenigsberg and other German cities in the part of Germany which they control, as one step toward wiping out German traditions. Perhaps all that such changes will accomplish like the one affecting Mt. Everest, is to make geography harder.

THOSE WEEDS

"Yes," said the owner of a summer cottage which had been rented for a time, "my tenants were good enough, but they thought that I had put the weeds there on purpose, and would not think of touching them."

Many a house owner has wished that his own feelings and those of others would permit him to grow weeds instead of grass and flowers. Nothing is prettier than a dandelion in full bloom. If it could only stay that way, most people would hesitate to pull it.

Probably if a man did specialize on weeds, they would fade and die, crowded out by the persistent grass.

The girl across the street is perturbed because she has learned that baseball fans do not help to keep the crowd cool at the games.

Bob Hope and Bing Crosby, two of the most popular figures on the American entertainment scene, raised over $1,000,000 recently to send the American Olympic team to Helsinki this year. The Olympic fund was short $500,000 of the figure needed to send the American team to the Olympic games and Hope and Crosby volunteered their services on a 14 hour television program. Contributions poured in from all parts of the country and the pair raised over twice as much money as they started out to do.

'These Days'

THE INVESTIGATIVE COMMITTEE

When Harry Truman is no longer President of the United States and, in the distant future, historians research his Administration, they will wonder at the depth of his dislike for Congress of which he used to be a member. It will also be puzzling to understand his bitter opposition to Congressional committees.

The McCarran Committee, for instance, has comported itself beyond criticism. It has prepared its cases with meticulous regard to the rights of individuals; it has avoided the charge of pillorying individuals for remote and insignficant errors; it has given the person under investigation every opportunity to state his case.

Yet, this committee, which was not investigating corruption in the Truman Administration but subversion in the United States, encountered as much opposition as the old Dies Committee did at the hands of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. What can the reason be, except that the President objects to anyone interfering with what he regards as his private affair, namely, the Government of the United States?

The Washington correspondent of the London "Economist" provides a curious overtone to this inquiry into the President's mind, for he, too, apparently disapproves of Senator McCarran and so tells his British audience. This is what he says:

"The Democratic Senator from Nevada, who is using his Senate Judiciary sub-committee on internal security to uncover what he terms 'this gigantic conspiracy,' is practising a technique perfected by his somewhat more notorious Republican colleague from Wisconsin, Senator Joseph McCarthy. It is a technique which shocks many decent-minded Americans because it seeks to dress the committee hearings in something like the robes —or at the least the language—of a court of law and yet makes nonsense of the accepted practices of legal procedure. It is already abundantly clear that Senator McCarran and his committee intend, if they can, to bring about the jailing, on perjury charges, of Professor Owen Lattimore, of Johns-Hopkins University, and Mr. Joseph Barnes, well-known as a newspaperman.

"Both Professor Lattimore and Mr. Barnes were closely associated for a number of years before the war with the Institute of Pacific Relations, a body dedicated to the non-partisan study of the Far East. . . ."

True, this was written last summer before the seven volumes of the record of the investigation into the Institute of Pacific Relations were published. This was written before the State Department refused to give Profesor Lattimore a passport to travel abroad.

The intensity of the attack on the committee by this magazine is particularly interesting because it has generally reflected the views of the State Department except in instances when the British differ from Dean Acheson—which is not often.

It is impossible to believe that any man who is President of the United States would be sympathetic with a conspiracy to defeat the United States in Asia. Nothing has given the President more unpleasant days than his failure in China. Yet, he has not cooperated with any Congressional committee in trying to discover the cause of the disaster there and in Korea.

In fact, he has gone to the opposite extreme. Like the Washington correspondent of the London "Economist," the President has turned his back on everyone who sought to do anything constructive in the Far East.

He had General Albert C. Wedemeyer taken out of a field in which he was expert. Wedemeyer was so abused that he retired from his career in the Army. Truman dismissed General Douglas MacArthur, who had worked in the Far East longer than any other army officer and whose testimony before the Russell Committee has been borne out by subsequent events. The President has nicknamed friends of China, the "China lobby," and has persecuted individuals whom he designates as such, calling them liars.

It is a puzzling attitude, particularly as he must know from FBI reports, if from no other source, that the Soviet conspiracy is extraordinarily active in this country now as it has been throughout his Administration. The atom bomb and other military secrets were stolen, and since he has been President, Alger Hiss, his red-herring, has been convicted after two public trials and the verdict has been upheld by the Supreme Court.

It is an astonishing psychology—that of the President. He must dislike those who do disservice to America; yet he will not cooperate with the very Congressional committees that can establish the facts.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

SEVERE TYPE OF COLITIS

Colitis, generally speaking, is inflammation (really irritation) of the lining of the colon (the large intestine). In the simple form of colitis, there is constant diarrhea with the formation of considerable mucus. Eating soft foods and avoiding emotional disturbances is the usual treatment.

However, what is known as ulcerative colitis is a serious matter, as there is actual inflammation of the lining of the colon with ulcer formation and pouring out of blood and pus on the lining surface of the bowel.

While the beginning symptoms of ulcerative colitis are believed to be due to worry and other emotional disturbances, it is thought that rough foods and infections cause the development of this surface inflammation. With this drain on the strength of the patient, surgical operation with removal of part of the colon was the only form of treatment known until recently, when the sulfa drugs and penicillin were found to give good results. However, with the use of the miracle drug, corticotropin, physicians found that they had a successful method of treatment of this dread disease.

In Gastroenterology (stomach and intestines), Drs. J. M. Elliott, E. D. Adams, S. Sloan and others report 33 cases of chronic ulcerative colitis in which corticotropin (ACTH) was administered. These patients received the usual supportive treatment of bed rest, quieting drugs, liberal doses of vitamins and a concentrated bland high protein diet. Some were given blood transfusions and some antibiotic (germ-killing) drugs. The daily dose of cortocotropin started at from 20 to 40 mg., which during four or five days was increased to the maximal dosage, usually 100 to 120 mg. per day. The highest dose was 180 mg. The daily amount was divided into three or four injections into the muscles. After several days on the full dosage the amount was gradually reduced to from 20 to 40 mg. in two injections. Treatment was continuous for from 10 to 31 days, the total dosage ranging from 900 to 2,500 mg.

These physicians do not claim that corticotropin is a "cure" for ulcerative colitis, but it keeps the symptoms within reasonable bounds so that the patient doesn't suffer too much. This treatment is an improvement on other methods and may make operation unnecessary.

Those voting against Pan Am were: Democrats—Klein of New York, Granahan of Pennsylvania, Williams of Mississippi, Thornberry of Texas, Heller of New York, and Moulder of Missouri; plus two Republicans, Wolverton of New Jersey and Heselton of Massachusetts.

Chairman Crosser didn't vote on the grounds that the chairman is supposed to cast his ballot only in case of a tie. On less ticklish matters, however, Crosser hasn't hesitated to vote in the past. Another congressman who got cold feet was McGuire of Connecticut, who left the committee room five minutes before the roll call. Both Crosser and McGuire have admitted privately that they have been under terrific pressure from the Democratic bosses back home to go along with Pan Am.

Perverted Economy

One of the most amazing comments was made by Congressman Beamer, who votes for tremendous economy cuts that have no chance of passing. In answer to the argument that the Pan Am bill would cost the government $29,000,000 extra a year ($17,000,000 going to Pan Am, the rest to other airlines), Beamer snorted: "I don't think $29,000,000 is much of a saving."

No matter how much they try to disguise the fact, the congressmen knew they were voting against the taxpayers and for Pan Am. They may discover in November, however that the taxpayers have more votes than Pan Am.

Note—Pan American officials threw a party for the committee at the exclusive Belle Haven country club; while Pan Am Vice President J. Carroll Cone bought a $200 Jefferson-Jackson dinner for Congressman Harris of Arkansas and wife. Harris introduced the Pam Am Bill.

Delegate Totals Construed as Meaning Little With Respect to Any Candidate

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 1—By one device or another, the public has been led to believe that all one has to do to figure out the probable nominee of the Republican National Convention is to look at the tabulation of delegates as claimed thus far by the rival candidates or their managers and interpret the trend.

The truth is the delegate totals mean very little with respect to any candidate.

Another fallacy is that politicians control the national conventions and that public opinion has little influence on the delegates.

After having attended 18 national conventions, this writer is of the belief that public opinion has more to do with the final selections than the so-called professional politicians.

Again and again, just before a convention, the predictions as to who would be nominated, based on the supposedly high delegate total, have proved wrong. Thus, in 1912 when the supporters of Speaker Champ Clark had more than a majority and were close to the necessary two-thirds in the Democratic National Convention, few disinterested observers gave Woodrow Wilson much of a chance. Then came the sensational events which cut through the convention like a knife and forced issue after issue in spectacular fashion as William Jennings Bryan, thrice defeated as a Democratic candidate, drew the lines between progressivism and standpatism. He demanded that the delegates choose between a progressive and standpatter for temporary chairman. Then the governor of New Jersey, Woodrow Wilson, was the only one to line up on the progressive side, while the managers of Champ Clark failed to see the political implications of their defense of Judge Alton B. Parker, the standpat Democrat who was elected temporary chairman of the convention 579 to 508. It was a pyrrhic victory for the conservatives. It started the ball rolling toward the eventual nomination of Wilson, despite the fact that Clark had passed the majority mark.

History can repeat itself at the 1952 Republican National Convention because there are three spectacular moves open to the forces of General Eisenhower which can alter the whole psychology of the convention and influence the outcome.

First, there's a fight that will come when the convention delegates, by a roll-call vote, must go on record on a change in the rules which will forbid contested delegates to vote on their own or other contests.

Second, there's the fight on whether the Texas and Louisiana delegations representing Taft or Eisenhower shall be seated.

Third, there's the fight on what the foreign-policy plank of the party shall say about cooperation with Europe, American policy in Asia and economic aid.

On the third of these moves, there may come a fundamental split in party policy which could make the nomination not worth having for Mr. Taft, and it is well understood that General Eisenhower will repudiate any foreign-policy plank that has not met with his approval. It will be recalled that, after the 1928 Democratic convention, Governor Al Smith, as the party nominee, announced that he accepted the platform in every respect except one—that dealing with prohibition. There have been other instances in which candidates interpreted certain platform planks to fit their own way of thinking after the convention was adjourned and the heat of the campaign battle compelled interpretation.

In the debate on the foreign-policy plank delegates will be influnced by public opinion and their concept of what the voters want. Foreign policy is the real basis of difference between Taft and Eisenhower.

The Taft managers would be smart to yield on all three major points at issue—though they run the risk psychologically of seeming to have lost control of the majority at the convention. One thing is sure—the uncommitted and some of the committed delegates will find themselves deciding for Taft or Eisenhower when they vote on the three above-mentioned points of dispute. All three questions will be disposed of before the balloting on the nomination starts.

On the outcome of the platform fight will depend also whether the Republicans can hope to gather to their side a large share of the independent vote which is so important for them to win if they are to increase substantially the regular Republican vote which wasn't enough for victory in any of the last four presidential elections.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Any Negroes who have been fooled by the pretense which has been an important part of Eleanor Roosevelt's political front since 1933 will do themselves a service by reading her published thoughts on segregation in employment which are contained in the first of her massive incoherencies, the book called "This Is My Story." This work was published in the first Roosevelt administration and was the first major exploitation for personal profit of the tragic mistake of the American people in electing the head of this aggregation of graceless profiteers in human misery and confusion and national calamity.

As we all know now, La Boca Grande has gone in for ostentatious association with Negroes, usually persons with notorious records in the official files of the Committee on Un-American Activities. Some of our Negro fellow citizens, but by no means all, have been naive enough to accept this studied by-play as proof that she abhors racial discrimination. An avowed enemy is preferable to a false friend and I earnestly insist that a colored man or woman of character and dignity should have more respect for Jimmy Byrnes, the governor of South Carolina, who frankly holds with segregation and gives his reasons, however flimsy they may seem, to a faker who whoops up FEPC with the criminal proviso, but takes a personal exception for herself. Mr. Byrnes is not an enemy of Negroes but he is a forthright opponent on this issue.

In Chapter 17, headed "Readjustment," the empress is telling about her return from abroad just after World War I, to discover that the servants in their Washington household had been at daggers drawn in their absence. Franklin, the slacker, all six-feet-two of him, had ridden out the war as Assistant Secretary of the Navy and you gather that mama's boy, who was married and a father before it occurred to him to try work, was living high on income from his mama. Mama got it from the estate left by her father, the old opium smuggler of the China trade; from non-union coal mines in Pennsylvania where the family maintained gunmen to keep union organizers out and company stores to prey upon the miners; and from miscellaneous sources, probably no less nefarious. At any rate, mama's boy and his wife and those sterling characters, Jimmy, Elliott and Franklin lived the luxurious life in a rented house with at least four and probably one or two more negroes to cook and do around for them.

They had been so long away in Europe, at government expense, you may be sure, that "drastic steps had to be taken." Two servants quit and returned to New York and Eleanor decided "that it would be simpler if I took colored servants who could be obtained in Washington which would obviate my having to go to New York to find white ones."

Now this is precisely the crime that is condemned by Harry Truman's weird board, secretly packed by Felix Frankfurter's White House soulmate, David K. Niles. Truman would punish such discrimination with prison terms and fines under federal law. This is discrimination because of race. It is, in fact, genocide. La Boca found, as thousands of other employers have found, that white and Negro employes sometimes magnify into serious issues difficulties which would be trivial without the racial factor. A big corporation, buying human services for a given price, does not care whether the work is done by a white man or a Negro. The objections come from the workers who, ironically, nevertheless, have been voting time and again since 1932 for politicians who would harness them together and make them stay hitched, though many would let blood in rebellion until they got used to it as they have in baseball.

But the great and gracious double-dealer, who runs with Mary McLeod Bethune, Channing Tobias and other colored habitual denizens of index IX of the House Committee report, could not take the trouble to endure the problems of racial irritation in her own house. Instead, "in a day or two, I had a new cook, kitchenmaid, butler and housemaid," all Negroes.

Now she falls into that patronizing mood which has driven into furies some Negroes who nevertheless delight to grovel at her throne.

"Perhaps," she says, "it is my early association with Auntie Grace, and her tales of the old and much-loved colored people on the plantation" — the Aunt Jemima motive — "perhaps, it is just the southern blood" — and there is a problem in biology for Howard University to tackle — "the southern blood of my ancestors, but, ever since I have been in Washington, I have enjoyed my contact with such colored people as came to work for me. I have never regretted the change which I made when I completely staffed my house with colored servants."

A friend had told her that "properly trained," as perhaps one might train a pet or steed, "colored people were the most faithful and efficient servants in the world" and she admired a nameless Negro whom she called a "Mammy."

The confessions of the Roosevelts' housekeeper during the long presidency frankly allowed that it was too much trouble for La Boca to manage a mixed crew, thus confirming, as of much more recent date, the policy which the FEPC would make felonious. A true copy of the text of the Warm Springs deed with the African exclusion clause, signed by Franklin D. Roosevelt, will be presented in due course.

Kennedy said he has submitted his resignation to President Truman, to become effective Sept. 30, so that he may join an admiralty law firm.

Flynn Leaves Hospital

New York, July 1 (AP)—Bronx Democratic Leader Edward J. Flynn left a hospital yesterday greatly improved after an illness, but he may not get to attend the party's national convention starting July 21. Flynn, who is a delegate to the Chicago Democratic convention, was a patient for several weeks at the Harkness Pavilion of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. The nature of his illness was not disclosed. Doctors said he had improved greatly, but that it was not certain yet whether he could go to the convention.

Williams Appointed To Education Board

Woodstock, July 1—Henry A. Williams, who spends his summer weekends and vacations at his home on Glasco Turnpike, and the winter months at his Paterson, N. J., home, was appointed Tuesday by Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, to the state board of education. Williams, who is editor-in-chief of the Paterson Morning Call, has been a vital force in the New Jersey educational program for many years. He was a member of the Legislature in 1923, and was the author and sponsor of the measure creating the Paterson State Teachers College. He has also sponsored a number of other educational measures for the benefit of New Jersey's schools, teachers and students, and is at present actively pressing for legislation to bring about the urgently needed medical college in the state of New Jersey.

"Our prospective medical students have had to apply to Canada for their training," Williams said, "and now that those schools are filled to capacity there is nowhere for the New Jersey medical students to go. In our city of Paterson the ambulances are now answering calls without an attending interne, since there are none available."

Williams succeeds on the New Jersey state board the late Gustave A. Hunziker of Little Falls, N. J., who served with distinction for a quarter century, the last several years as president. He was first appointed when Williams was state senator back in the '20s. Governor Driscoll in making the appointment, according to an account in the Paterson Morning Call, "considered Williams to be a logical successor."

Williams is married to a Woodstock artist, Peggy Dodds, whose paintings are on view at the Woodstock Art Gallery and the Rudolph Gallery. The Williams, with their son, Sandy, plan to spend the latter part of the summer at their home here.

Rabies Clinics Slated in July

Stressing the importance of vaccinating dogs for rabies, Dr. Gilbert F. Hoppenstedt has announced a series of free clinics scheduled by the Ulster County Health Department.

In announcing the clinics, Dr. Hoppenstedt recalled an incident of a week ago in the Milton area, where a cat scratched a child and later was found to have rabies.

Dr. Hoppenstedt emphasized the importance of having all dogs vaccinated to reduce the possibility of spreading rabies to humans.

All dogs six months or older and those not vaccinated last summer should be vaccinated at the clinics scheduled from 7 to 9 p. m. as follows:

Monday, July 14—Saugerties firehouse, Stone Ridge firehouse, Kingston (Cordts) firehouse, Delaware avenue, Ellenville police station, Gardiner, Dr. C. H. Hoppenstedt's office.

Tuesday, July 15—Woodstock firehouse, New Paltz firehouse, Hurley firehouse, Kerhonkson firehouse, Port Ewen town barn.

Arms Production Readied

Essen, Germany (AP) — The new Allied-German "peace contract" unclamps all but two security controls over West Germany's gigantic industrial machine. And that means that the big Ruhr steel mills again can produce such items as artillery weapons, shells, tanks and similar military items. Security controls, however, stipulate that arms must be under authority of the European army. The other bans production of atomic weapons, guided missles, bacteriological weapons and poison gas.

Law Abiding

Izmir, Turkey (AP)—The village of Karakelic in southwestern Turkey claims to be the most law-abiding community in the country. For 96 years, not one of the 450 inhabitants of Karakelic has been arrested or hailed before any court. Official records show that no resident of the village in that period has even so much as appeared in court as a witness.

Perl Loses Move

New York, July 1 (AP)—A former Columbia University physics instructor has lost a move for an early trial on charges he falsely told a federal grand jury he did not know convicted atomic spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg. Federal Judge John F. X. McGohey yesterday turned down the motion by the teacher, 33-year-old William Perl. McGohey indicated the case would not be tried until the fall. Perl is free in $20,000 bail. He had sought a trial this month or dismissal of the indictment.

were representatives of the military, the foreign trade commissariat, the political section, all reporting directly to the Moscow headquarters concerned. There was also the comintern, with headquarters in Moscow, directing the activities of Communist parties throughout the world. Wherever possible there was a trade mission with diplomatic status, making spy operations easy.

The Communist party was the recruiting agent for the network which was to pour secret information into the Kremlin. Party members and "sympathizers," a special category embracing those who might aspire to party membership, were the principal operatives. Beyond them were the dupes, persuaded they were working for the good of mankind.

The classic pattern was laid in Canada when Igor Gouzenko, a code clerk and NKVD school graduate working in Moscow's embassy at Ottawa, revealed to Canadian authorities the existence of a widespread conspiracy to funnel secret and vital information to Moscow.

Gouzenko's defection disclosed "The Neighbors," Russian code name for the secret police, began organizing spy operations in the 20's with native or naturalized Canadians especially trained in Moscow for the task.

With World War 2 rushing to its climax, this network, closely linked with similar organizations in the United States, England and elsewhere, was put to its greatest test.

The operations resulted in such celebrated cases as those of Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Dr. Alan Nunn May, the British atom scientists turned traitor; Harry Gold and Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and their spy activity in the United States; Ernst Hilding Andersson, Johan Fritiof Enbom and the spy network in Sweden; Communist leaders Fred Rose and Sam Carr and the others in the Canadian spy ring.

American calculations are that the activities of these persons advanced the Soviet Union's atomic weapons program by at least 18 months, possibly by much more, and placed in Soviet hands both exact calculations and educated guesses on the subject of atomic weapons progress here.

Investigations in Canada and elsewhere indicate Moscow, over the past 25 years, has built up a fantastic file system which contains information on every card-carrying Communist in the United States, Britain and several other western countries.

This file was built up through the efforts of the Comintern—the Communist international which was abolished in name by Stalin in 1943—and probably is kept up to date through the efforts today of the Cominform and other liaisons between western Communist parties and Moscow. The information is used by Moscow as a check on any persons who might be employed as agents for spying or other special activities. No person in any of these countries can do Soviet spy work without being cleared by Moscow itself.

Today in the United States, the Communist party actually is underground. Each of the 40,000-odd card-carrying members is a potential spy or saboteur, dedicated to revolt, prepared to resort to violence if necessary, and regarded by federal authorities as a far greater menace than the Nazi subversion which preceded World War 2.

In addition, the FBI says, there are about half a million persons in the United States whom the Communists consider trustworthy enough to be classed as "sympathizers," all potentially useful. That means an average of one to every 300 persons in the U. S. The "sympathizer," a classification not lightly bestowed, is a person who might one day be inducted into party membership.

Sometimes a sympathizer finds himself hopelessly entangled "in the net" of Soviet espionage. Sometimes such a person will try to wriggle out of the net. But the disillusioned do not always get away.

The Canadian investigation uncovered one message from "the director" in Mocow to his embassy operatives in Canada, referring to an agent who had become unreliable. It read:

"I think it is better to get rid of him, or turn him over to the neighbors."

Soviet Secret Police Chief Lavrenty Beria and his "neighbors" lose a lot of spies to discovery and disillusionment. But they have plenty of material from which to choose new hands.

Housing Controls

Washington, July 1 (AP)—Apparently you'll have to wait until about Dec. 1—or later—before you can start shopping around to buy or build a new home above the $7,000 class for as little as 5 per cent down. That's the earliest date on which the government figures it can comply with a real estate provision of the controls extension bill President Truman signed yesterday.

Strike Is Postponed

New York, July 1 (AP)—The CIO Oil Workers International Union today postponed indefinitely a strike by 10,000 employes of the Sinclair Refining Co. The strike had been scheduled to start last midnight, but a negotiating session lasted past the deadline.

Typhoon Warnings Given

Manila, July 1 (AP)—Typhoon warnings flew along most of the Philippines east coast today as a storm with 95 mile an hour winds swirled closer. Forecasters estimated the typhoon—called Emma—would reach an area 160 miles east southeast of Surigao, on Mindanao Island, at 2 a. m. Wednesday (1 p. m. Tuesday EST). The storm was 350 miles due east of Surigao at 2 p. m. today.

According to scientists, trees grow more during years of great sunspot activity.

Moran School Summer Session

Students are now enrolling for summer and fall terms of the Moran-Spencerian School of Business, situated in the uptown building of the Kingston Daily Freeman, 237 Fair street. Beginning dates for summer sessions are June 30 and July 7. The fall term will open on September 8.

There is probably no class of skilled workers in greater demand today than stenographers and secretaries. Business Week Magazine is authority for the statement that for the first time in history there are far more married women than single girls working and that older women are joining the working forces in growing numbers. Single girls now comprise only about one-third of the total number of working women.

This situation has been developing over a long period and has now reached the proportions of a basic change in our way of living—a change that until now has gone practically unnoticed. A factor that has contributed largely to the current situation is the low birthrate of the 1930's. The number of teenagers has decreased by some two million in the last 10 or 12 years.

These summer sessions provide the opportunity to train intensively and thoroughly for positions of the better type. The management of the Moran-Spencerian School explains that arrangements for entering may be made by calling personally at the school office or by telephoning Kingston 178.

There are 158 species and subspecies of living and fossil kangaroos.

The operations resulted in such celebrated cases as those of Dr. Klaus Fuchs and Dr. Alan Nunn May, the British atom scientists turned traitor; Harry Gold and Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and their spy activity in the United States; Ernst Hilding Andersson, Johan Fritiof Enbom and the spy network in Sweden; Communist leaders Fred Rose and Sam Carr and the others in the Canadian spy ring.

American calculations are that the activities of these persons advanced the Soviet Union's atomic weapons program by at least 18 months, possibly by much more, and placed in Soviet hands both exact calculations and educated guesses on the subject of atomic weapons progress here.

Investigations in Canada and elsewhere indicate Moscow, over the past 25 years, has built up a fantastic file system which contains information on every card-carrying Communist in the United States, Britain and several other western countries.

This file was built up through the efforts of the Comintern—the Communist international which was abolished in name by Stalin in 1943—and probably is kept up to date through the efforts today of the Cominform and other liaisons between western Communist parties and Moscow. The information is used by Moscow as a check on any persons who might be employed as agents for spying or other special activities. No person in any of these countries can do Soviet spy work without being cleared by Moscow itself.

Today in the United States, the Communist party actually is underground. Each of the 40,000-odd card-carrying members is a potential spy or saboteur, dedicated to revolt, prepared to resort to violence if necessary, and regarded by federal authorities as a far greater menace than the Nazi subversion which preceded World War 2.

In addition, the FBI says, there are about half a million persons in the United States whom the Communists consider trustworthy enough to be classed as "sympathizers," all potentially useful. That means an average of one to every 300 persons in the U. S. The "sympathizer," a classification not lightly bestowed, is a person who might one day be inducted into party membership.

Sometimes a sympathizer finds himself hopelessly entangled "in the net" of Soviet espionage. Sometimes such a person will try to wriggle out of the net. But the disillusioned do not always get away.

The Canadian investigation uncovered one message from "the director" in Mocow to his embassy operatives in Canada, referring to an agent who had become unreliable. It read:

"I think it is better to get rid of him, or turn him over to the neighbors."

Soviet Secret Police Chief Lavrenty Beria and his "neighbors" lose a lot of spies to discovery and disillusionment. But they have plenty of material from which to choose new hands.

Housing Controls

Washington, July 1 (AP)—Apparently you'll have to wait until about Dec. 1—or later—before you can start shopping around to buy or build a new home above the $7,000 class for as little as 5 per cent down. That's the earliest date on which the government figures it can comply with a real estate provision of the controls extension bill President Truman signed yesterday.

Strike Is Postponed

New York, July 1 (AP)—The CIO Oil Workers International Union today postponed indefinitely a strike by 10,000 employes of the Sinclair Refining Co. The strike had been scheduled to start last midnight, but a negotiating session lasted past the deadline.

Moran School Summer Session

Students are now enrolling for summer and fall terms of the Moran-Spencerian School of Business, situated in the uptown building of the Kingston Daily Freeman, 237 Fair street. Beginning dates for summer sessions are June 30 and July 7. The fall term will open on September 8.

There is probably no class of skilled workers in greater demand today than stenographers and secretaries. Business Week Magazine is authority for the statement that for the first time in history there are far more married women than single girls working and that older women are joining the working forces in growing numbers. Single girls now comprise only about one-third of the total number of working women.

This situation has been developing over a long period and has now reached the proportions of a basic change in our way of living—a change that until now has gone practically unnoticed. A factor that has contributed largely to the current situation is the low birthrate of the 1930's. The number of teenagers has decreased by some two million in the last 10 or 12 years.

These summer sessions provide the opportunity to train intensively and thoroughly for positions of the better type. The management of the Moran-Spencerian School explains that arrangements for entering may be made by calling personally at the school office or by telephoning Kingston 178.

There are 158 species and subspecies of living and fossil kangaroos.

Typhoon Warnings Given

Manila, July 1 (AP)—Typhoon warnings flew along most of the Philippines east coast today as a storm with 95 mile an hour winds swirled closer. Forecasters estimated the typhoon—called Emma—would reach an area 160 miles east southeast of Surigao, on Mindanao Island, at 2 a. m. Wednesday (1 p. m. Tuesday EST). The storm was 350 miles due east of Surigao at 2 p. m. today.

According to scientists, trees grow more during years of great sunspot activity.

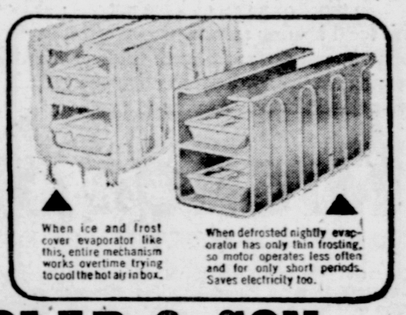
No More Messy Hand Defrosting

You not only avoid this weekly task but save on electric bills. Also, nightly defrosting keeps moist air flowing within the box instead of gathering on the evaporator. Foods keep fresher longer because they don't dry out.



When ice and frost cover evaporator like this, entire mechanism works overtime trying to cool the hot air in box.

When defrosted nightly evaporator has only thin frosting, so motor operates less often and for only short periods. Saves electricity too.

New Bond Poster To Be Displayed

A brilliant, four-color new Defense Bond poster is appearing on all Kingston, postal trucks beginning today, Postmaster William R. Kraft announced. It will be seen on all post office trucks here and in the rest of the United States during the balance of July.

William R. Kraft said the new poster was created by one of the country's leading poster artists. Its patriotic pictorial theme surrounds a design of Defense Bonds and carries the slogan, "Now Even Better, Invest More in Defense Bonds." He said that cooperation such as the general display of the new poster is selling more and more Kingston people on systematic savings through regular purchase of Defense Bonds.

Kingston people have been buying their E Bonds from local Post Office stations since the bonds were made available to the public almost 12 years ago. Information on the improved E Bond can be obtained at all local post office stations, Postmaster William R. Kraft said.

800 Attend Rites In Port Ewen

The Shrine of Our Lady of the Hudson was dedicated Saturday afternoon on the grounds of the Church of the Presentation in Port Ewen.

The Rev. Joseph Comyns, assistant pastor of the parish, who presided at the dedication, estimated the attendance at between 700 and 800 persons — boatmen from communities up and down the river, their families and local parishioners.

The Rev. John G. Schultz, C. Ss.R., of the Preacher's Institute of Catholic University, Washington, D. C., in his dedication address heralded the completion of the project as symbolic of "a mighty spiritual reawakening among our Catholic people."

Influence Will Spread

He told the boatmen present not to be ashamed to kneel on the decks of their boats when they reach the spot in the river opposite the statue. "If you do," he said, "you will influence the next person," and the influence of their devotion will spread throughout the country.

From the discovery of this country, "the more our people loved the Mother of God, the more progress we made," Father Schultz said.

Unfortunately, the people began to turn away after World War 1 and "Christian America became pagan America." He said that "at least 70 million" persons in the country today profess allegiance "to no religion whatsoever."

"If we turn back to Her throughout the nation, then we would have no fear of the future . . . No one can oppose Almighty God and long do it, as long as there are people who love Him and turn to Him for help."

The Rt. Rev. John J. O'Donnell, P.A., chaplain of the Port of New York, also addressed the group, telling them that the dedication of the Shrine at Port Ewen might serve as an example for those "at the mouth of the river."

The six-foot high statue of the Virgin Mary holding a miniature tugboat, was erected facing toward New York city at the mouth of the river. It was the work of Tomas Penning of High Woods and was carved from native bluestone quarried at Sawkill.

The statue was unveiled Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Patrick Hines, mother of five sons, all tugboatmen.

The Rt. Rev. Martin J. Drury, V.F., dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties, solemnly blessed the statue.

Gives Acceptance Address

The address of acceptance was given by the Very Rev. Michael A. Gearin, C.Ss.R., pastor of Presentation Parish in Port Ewen.

The choir from Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus, participated in the program, which closed with a Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, with the Rt. Rev. Stephen P. Connelly of Kingston as celebrant.

The erection and dedication of the shrine was requested by Port Ewen boatmen. Labor and management groups worked together to forward the project and a list of contributors includes the International Longshoremen's Association; Local 333 of that union's United Marine Division; Reliance Marine, Inc.; Cornell Steamboat Company, and other firms and individuals. In addition, a sum was raised by a Boatmen's Ball held in Port Ewen this year.

At Statue Dedication

Principals at the Saturday dedication were (l. to r.) the Very Rev. Michael A. Gearin, C.Ss.R., pastor of the Presentation Church, Port Ewen; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties; the Rev. Joseph Comyns, assistant pastor of the Presentation parish; and the Rev. John A. Schultz, C.Ss.R., of the Preacher's Institute of Catholic University, Washington, D. C. (Wagenfohr photo)

Flavor that chill can't kill

Here's beer that keeps its fine flavor even when served ice cold.

Ballantine brews for flavor!

How cold do you like your beer?

Good and cold, if you're like most people!

In fact, recent surveys show that nowadays beer is usually served at temperatures as low as 35°; seldom higher than 42° Fahrenheit.

That's the way Americans like their beer—well-chilled.

The problem has been to brew a beer that would hold its fine, full flavor even at low temperatures.

Ballantine Beer is specially brewed—deep-flavor brewed—to do just that. Ballantine brews for flavor. For lightness, yes! For dryness, of course! But first, last, and always, Ballantine brews for flavor . . . using Nature's finest barley malts, the very choicest hops, and yeast of long and honorable pedigree. The result: fine, full flavor that chill can't kill!

Serve a bottle of Ballantine Beer "right off the ice" . . . the way you like it on a warm summer's day . . . and see for yourself.

Tip it into a thin glass. Notice its clear, bright sparkle as it pours. See how its rich, creamy head builds up . . . and holds!

Take a good full swallow. A-a-h! Here's beer that's dry and tangy . . . light and lively . . . brimful of flavor even when served ice cold.

Waiting for you . . . at your favorite store and tavern. Next time, make it Ballantine—the beer with the fine, full flavor that chill can't kill.

How cold do you like your beer?

A recent house-to-house refrigerator check shows that most people prefer to serve beer well-chilled . . . at temperatures ranging from 35° to 42° Fahrenheit.

Ballantine Beer is specially brewed—deep-flavor brewed—to hold its flavor at whatever temperature you like best!

Bridge Tester Built

London (AP)—Britain has built an 85-ton vehicle, believed to be the only one of its kind in the world, for testing road bridges. Named "Ossa upon Pelion"—after the Greek mountains of those names—the vehicle carries a 35-foot-long 50-ton chunk of concrete which can be maneuvered to change the weight on the vehicle's bogey wheels. The weight on a single bogey can be varied at will from 20 to 90 tons for bridge-testing.

UNCLE EF

Averell Harriman seems to want to be President awful bad and there's something to be said for him from a taxpayer's standpoint. He's got so much money, maybe he'd take on some of this foreign aid as personal charity for tax deduction purposes.

Dates Are Announced For Hurley Dental Clinics

A series of dental clinics for pre-school children, ages 3 to 5, will be conducted at the Hurley School in Hurley on July 15, 16, and 17, Dr. Robert H. Broad, Commissioner of Health of Ulster county, announced today.

The July 15 clinic is only for children who have had previous applications of sodium fluoride. The clinics July 16 and 17 are for new children.

In these clinics, the children will have their teeth examined and also be able to see dental equipment. In this way, they will become interested and look forward to future visits to the dentist.

Appointments will be made at that time for the application of sodium fluoride to aid in the prevention of tooth decay.

Parents of pre-school children who are interested and would like their children to attend the clinics may call Kingston 5807-R or Kingston 6613, preferably in the morning.

Indians established great irrigation works in the Southwestern United States long before the coming of the White Man.

Here's How to Make the Best Tuna Sandwich You've Ever Tasted!

1 Use day old bread of a firm texture and slice with a very sharp knife.

2 To bring out the flavor of any sandwich, cream a few drops of lemon juice with the butter.

3 To prevent soaking, bring butter to room temperature, and spread a thin layer on BOTH slices instead of just one.

4 For the best tasting tuna you've ever tried, use STAR-KIST TUNA—the tuna with the flavor preferred over all other national brands 3 to 1!

Tuna sandwiches are a picnic favorite, and in a sandwich, tuna flavor really comes into its own! That's why it's more important than ever to choose tuna with super flavor for your sandwiches. A recent test proved Star-Kist Tuna's flavor is preferred 3 to 1 over all other national brands tested.

Bridge Tester Built

London (AP)—Britain has built an 85-ton vehicle, believed to be the only one of its kind in the world, for testing road bridges. Named "Ossa upon Pelion"—after the Greek mountains of those names—the vehicle carries a 35-foot-long 50-ton chunk of concrete which can be maneuvered to change the weight on the vehicle's bogey wheels. The weight on a single bogey can be varied at will from 20 to 90 tons for bridge-testing.

Averell Harriman seems to want to be President awful bad and there's something to be said for him from a taxpayer's standpoint. He's got so much money, maybe he'd take on some of this foreign aid as personal charity for tax deduction purposes.

Dates Are Announced For Hurley Dental Clinics

A series of dental clinics for pre-school children, ages 3 to 5, will be conducted at the Hurley School in Hurley on July 15, 16, and 17, Dr. Robert H. Broad, Commissioner of Health of Ulster county, announced today.

The July 15 clinic is only for children who have had previous applications of sodium fluoride. The clinics July 16 and 17 are for new children.

In these clinics, the children will have their teeth examined and also be able to see dental equipment. In this way, they will become interested and look forward to future visits to the dentist.

Appointments will be made at that time for the application of sodium fluoride to aid in the prevention of tooth decay.

Parents of pre-school children who are interested and would like their children to attend the clinics may call Kingston 5807-R or Kingston 6613, preferably in the morning.

Indians established great irrigation works in the Southwestern United States long before the coming of the White Man.

Here's How to Make the Best Tuna Sandwich You've Ever Tasted!

1 Use day old bread of a firm texture and slice with a very sharp knife.

2 To bring out the flavor of any sandwich, cream a few drops of lemon juice with the butter.

3 To prevent soaking, bring butter to room temperature, and spread a thin layer on BOTH slices instead of just one.

4 For the best tasting tuna you've ever tried, use STAR-KIST TUNA—the tuna with the flavor preferred over all other national brands 3 to 1!

Tuna sandwiches are a picnic favorite, and in a sandwich, tuna flavor really comes into its own! That's why it's more important than ever to choose tuna with super flavor for your sandwiches. A recent test proved Star-Kist Tuna's flavor is preferred 3 to 1 over all other national brands tested.

Keep it on hand for those "last-minute" picnic lunches...

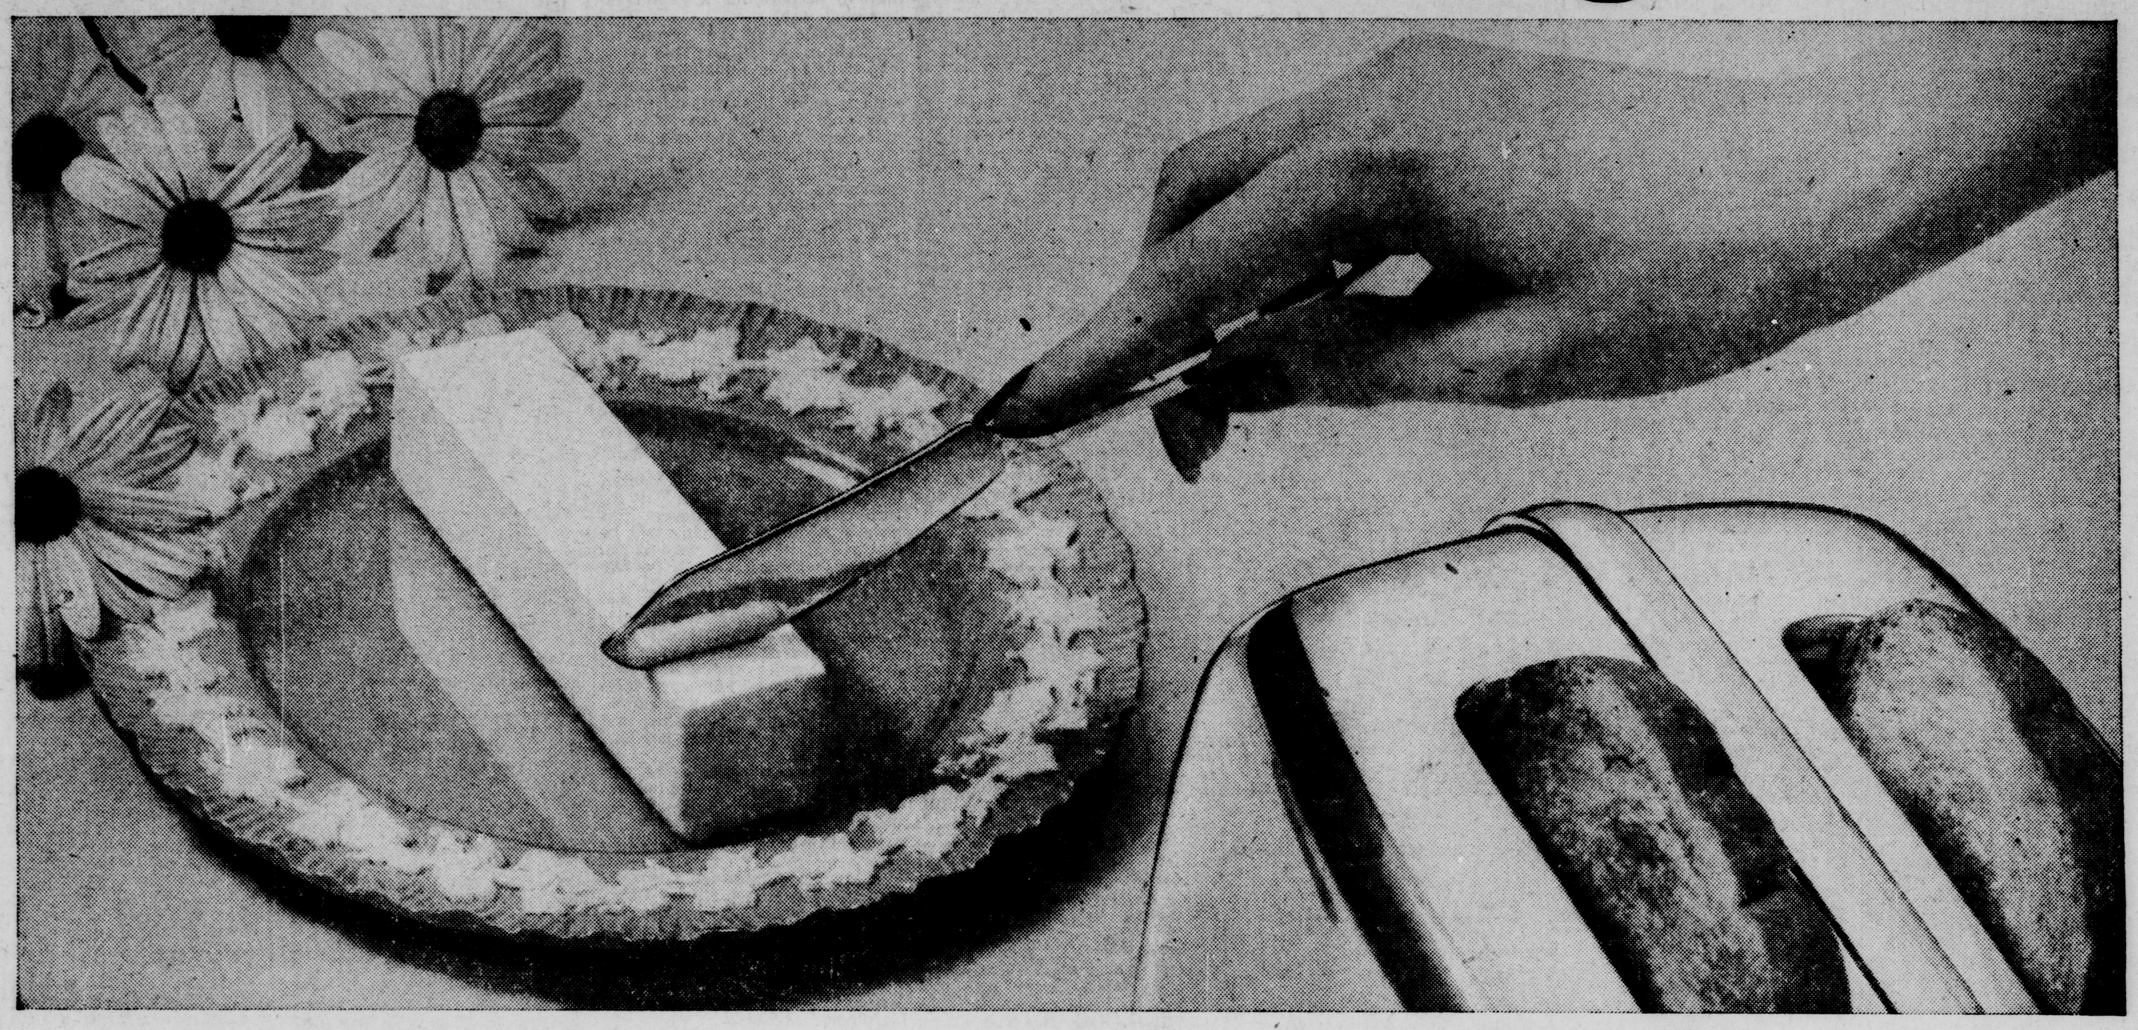
Lever Brothers Announce a New Kind of Margarine!



Amazing new golden GOOD LUCK is specially made for your table, gives you double the energy of beefsteak!

FROM LEVER BROTHERS' new headquarters on Park Avenue comes news of a revolutionary new development in margarine.

Fourteen years of TOP-SECRET research, costing hundreds of thousands of dollars, have ended triumphantly with the announcement of new golden GOOD LUCK, specially made for use on American dinner tables.

Today you can forget all you've ever heard about margarine. Golden GOOD LUCK is in a class by itself, utterly different from old-fashioned oleo—which, incidentally, was first made when General Grant was President.

Flavor Secret Discovered at Famous College of Agriculture

In perfecting the fresh, natural, country-sweet flavor of golden GOOD LUCK, Lever Brothers have used a technique discovered at a famous State College of Agriculture—in the heart of the farm belt.

The new GOOD LUCK table margarine is made fresh every day. Remarkable new equipment includes a secret invention which nobody is permitted to see.

Each batch of GOOD LUCK has to pass a battery of tests. The beautiful golden spread is finally formed into handy quarters, and wrapped in special aluminum foil. This foil seals in the country-fresh flavor.

97% of Ingredients Come from American Farms

There is nothing "synthetic" about the new golden GOOD LUCK. It contains no inferior substitutes, no injurious chemicals.

No, GOOD LUCK is not a substitute for anything. It is a very great discovery in its own right, made from the rich produce of American farms—top-quality vegetable oils and fat-free milk.

The fact is that 97% of the GOOD LUCK ingredients are produced on farms. The other 3% is pure salt—for flavor.

GOOD LUCK is essentially a farm product, processed in spotless tiled kitchens on the banks of the Hudson River.

Famous Pollster Reveals 70% Prefer New GOOD LUCK

To insure that they had gotten the flavor of GOOD LUCK just perfect, Lever Brothers called in a world-famous pollster. The great man sent his interviewers out to conduct a series of taste tests. Hundreds of women tried the new GOOD LUCK, compared it with other brands.

GOOD LUCK polled more votes than any other margarine, defeating the most famous of the old brands by an overwhelming majority.

(This survey was on the level. Those women were really crazy about the taste of new golden GOOD LUCK.)

Farmers' Wives Switch to GOOD LUCK

Frankly we never expected to see farmers switch to margarine—we thought they would be the very last to see the light.

But the truly amazing fact is this: in those rural areas where we have already introduced GOOD LUCK in a quiet way, countless farmers' wives are now serving this new golden glory at every meal.

Shrewd souls, those farmers' wives. They watch every penny—but they want the best.

Believe it or not, American farmers are now eating almost as much margarine as city folks. TIME MARCHES ON!

Your Money Back

Let's admit it. There are many fine housekeepers who wouldn't serve margarine for all the tea in China.

We don't blame them, not one bit. They probably remember old-fashioned "oleo," which was made of beef-fat—and tasted terrible.

But if these discriminating gals knew what we know about the new golden GOOD LUCK, they would very soon forget their expensive prejudice.

So we make this sporting offer: Put a pat of golden GOOD LUCK on your husband's hot toast at breakfast tomorrow morning. Don't say a word. Just watch him out of the corner of your eye.

If your better-half doesn't actually prefer GOOD LUCK, we will repay you what you paid your grocer, plus postage. And no questions asked!

This new golden GOOD LUCK is really different. It doesn't have a trace of that old-fashioned oleo flavor—even when you spread it on hot toast!

Maybe you don't believe it—like the man who saw his first giraffe and said he didn't believe that!

Lever Brothers Fortify GOOD LUCK with 15,000 Units of Vitamin A

With every golden pound of new GOOD LUCK you and your children get 15,000 USP Units of Vitamin A.

Do you realize the tremendous importance of this? Doctors will tell you that Vitamin A builds up your resistance to colds and other respiratory infections. And pediatricians know that Vitamin A helps your children grow strong—it helps them assimilate iron and calcium.

The new GOOD LUCK gives you more Vitamin A than you get in thirty glasses of Grade A milk. More than you get in two dozen fresh farm eggs. Consistently more than you get in the expensive spread!

Twice the Energy-Value of Steak!

This new golden GOOD LUCK is one of the most nourishing foods you can serve to growing children—or hard-working grown-ups.

Believe it or not, GOOD LUCK contains twice the energy-value of juicy beefsteak.

Lever Brothers also add thousands of gallons of the finest skim milk to GOOD LUCK—which gives you proteins, calcium and other body-building minerals.

Indeed, it is hard to think of anything you could give your children to make them stronger, or more healthy. This great triumph of modern research will make them go like steam-engines.

And by the way, listen to this. Three doctors at the University of Illinois conducted a study of 267 children. They divided the kids into two groups. For two years the kids in one group got nothing but margarine. Here's an extract from the doctors' report:

"The children in the margarine group experienced a high degree of good health during the study, and in comparing their health . . . it appears to have been much better."

Can You Use GOOD LUCK for Cooking?

We have told you that the new golden GOOD LUCK is specially blended for use on the table—for hot toast, hot biscuits, waffles, lobster, corn on the cob.

How about cooking with GOOD LUCK?

Well, some say it is a shame to use this fabulous new table margarine in cooking. But we don't see it that way.

Why on earth shouldn't you use GOOD LUCK for baking? It "creams" like a dream, and makes cakes, cookies and pies taste richer than ever.

Women who have tried frying with the new GOOD LUCK report that for some mysterious reason it doesn't "spatter" you. Do you know the reason for this? It is because Lever Brothers have added a special ingredient developed just for this purpose.

Best of all, serve your vegetables—potatoes, beans, asparagus, peas, carrots, broccoli—swimming with GOOD LUCK. They will taste like a million dollars!

Save as Much as 50¢ a Pound—but Treat Yourself to the Best!

You might expect to pay a fancy price for this glorious new table margarine. But the amazing fact is that GOOD LUCK costs no more than old-fashioned Oleo! So—treat yourself to the best, and save as much as 50¢ a pound!

You can afford to spread GOOD LUCK lavishly, thick. No one can accuse you of extravagance. It's a wonderful buy—unconditionally guaranteed by Lever Brothers Company.

How your grandmother would have loved this heavenly new golden GOOD LUCK, product of American farms and brilliant research.

Three loud cheers for GOOD LUCK! Buy yourself a pound of this wonderful new table margarine as soon as the stores open tomorrow morning. Don't hang back. It's probably going to sell out.

On sale at all stores on July 1

No, GOOD LUCK is not a substitute for anything. It is a very great discovery in its own right, made from the rich produce of American farms—top-quality vegetable oils and fat-free milk.

The fact is that 97% of the GOOD LUCK ingredients are produced on farms. The other 3% is pure salt—for flavor.

GOOD LUCK is essentially a farm product, processed in spotless tiled kitchens on the banks of the Hudson River.

Famous Pollster Reveals 70% Prefer New GOOD LUCK

To insure that they had gotten the flavor of GOOD LUCK just perfect, Lever Brothers called in a world-famous pollster. The great man sent his interviewers out to conduct a series of taste tests. Hundreds of women tried the new GOOD LUCK, compared it with other brands.

GOOD LUCK polled more votes than any other margarine, defeating the most famous of the old brands by an overwhelming majority.

(This survey was on the level. Those women were really crazy about the taste of new golden GOOD LUCK.)

Farmers' Wives Switch to GOOD LUCK

Frankly we never expected to see farmers switch to margarine—we thought they would be the very last to see the light.

But the truly amazing fact is this: in those rural areas where we have already introduced GOOD LUCK in a quiet way, countless farmers' wives are now serving this new golden glory at every meal.

Shrewd souls, those farmers' wives. They watch every penny—but they want the best.

Believe it or not, American farmers are now eating almost as much margarine as city folks. TIME MARCHES ON!

Your Money Back

Let's admit it. There are many fine housekeepers who wouldn't serve margarine for all the tea in China.

We don't blame them, not one bit. They probably remember old-fashioned "oleo," which was made of beef-fat—and tasted terrible.

But if these discriminating gals knew what we know about the new golden GOOD LUCK, they would very soon forget their expensive prejudice.

So we make this sporting offer: Put a pat of golden GOOD LUCK on your husband's hot toast at breakfast tomorrow morning. Don't say a word. Just watch him out of the corner of your eye.

If your better-half doesn't actually prefer GOOD LUCK, we will repay you what you paid your grocer, plus postage. And no questions asked!

This new golden GOOD LUCK is really different. It doesn't have a trace of that old-fashioned oleo flavor—even when you spread it on hot toast!

Maybe you don't believe it—like the man who saw his first giraffe and said he didn't believe that!

Lever Brothers Fortify GOOD LUCK with 15,000 Units of Vitamin A

With every golden pound of new GOOD LUCK you and your children get 15,000 USP Units of Vitamin A.

Do you realize the tremendous importance of this? Doctors will tell you that Vitamin A builds up your resistance to colds and other respiratory infections. And pediatricians know that Vitamin A helps your children grow strong—it helps them assimilate iron and calcium.

The new GOOD LUCK gives you more Vitamin A than you get in thirty glasses of Grade A milk. More than you get in two dozen fresh farm eggs. Consistently more than you get in the expensive spread!

Twice the Energy-Value of Steak!

This new golden GOOD LUCK is one of the most nourishing foods you can serve to growing children—or hard-working grown-ups.

Believe it or not, GOOD LUCK contains twice the energy-value of juicy beefsteak.

Lever Brothers also add thousands of gallons of the finest skim milk to GOOD LUCK—which gives you proteins, calcium and other body-building minerals.

Indeed, it is hard to think of anything you could give your children to make them stronger, or more healthy. This great triumph of modern research will make them go like steam-engines.

And by the way, listen to this. Three doctors at the University of Illinois conducted a study of 267 children. They divided the kids into two groups. For two years the kids in one group got nothing but margarine. Here's an extract from the doctors' report:

"The children in the margarine group experienced a high degree of good health during the study, and in comparing their health . . . it appears to have been much better."

Can You Use GOOD LUCK for Cooking?

We have told you that the new golden GOOD LUCK is specially blended for use on the table—for hot toast, hot biscuits, waffles, lobster, corn on the cob.

How about cooking with GOOD LUCK?

Well, some say it is a shame to use this fabulous new table margarine in cooking. But we don't see it that way.

Why on earth shouldn't you use GOOD LUCK for baking? It "creams" like a dream, and makes cakes, cookies and pies taste richer than ever.

Women who have tried frying with the new GOOD LUCK report that for some mysterious reason it doesn't "spatter" you. Do you know the reason for this? It is because Lever Brothers have added a special ingredient developed just for this purpose.

Best of all, serve your vegetables—potatoes, beans, asparagus, peas, carrots, broccoli—swimming with GOOD LUCK. They will taste like a million dollars!

Save as Much as 50¢ a Pound—but Treat Yourself to the Best!

You might expect to pay a fancy price for this glorious new table margarine. But the amazing fact is that GOOD LUCK costs no more than old-fashioned Oleo! So—treat yourself to the best, and save as much as 50¢ a pound!

You can afford to spread GOOD LUCK lavishly, thick. No one can accuse you of extravagance. It's a wonderful buy—unconditionally guaranteed by Lever Brothers Company.

How your grandmother would have loved this heavenly new golden GOOD LUCK, product of American farms and brilliant research.

Three loud cheers for GOOD LUCK! Buy yourself a pound of this wonderful new table margarine as soon as the stores open tomorrow morning. Don't hang back. It's probably going to sell out.

On sale at all stores on July 1

Good Taste Today

OVERSENSITIVE STEPFATHER

An unhappy situation is explained as follows: "My husband by a second marriage is still upset over the fact that my children did not remember him on Father's Day with a present or a card. I am sure they meant no rudeness as they are very fond of him but just didn't think it was correct since he is not their real father. Will you please tell me if this was such a terrible breach of etiquette and if he is justified in feeling hurt?"

If he has been their father since they were such little children that they can't even remember their own father, then I think his feelings would be justified. But if their own father died only a very short while ago, or is even possibly living, then he certainly has no cause to be upset.

Wedding Collation

Dear Mrs. Post: I am being married at eleven o'clock in the morning and the reception will take place at twelve. I am wondering whether a collation consisting of small sandwiches, salad, cake and punch would be proper at this hour, or would more substantial food have to be served. I would like to invite a large number of friends to the reception but could not afford a dinner for that many people and, if the menu I suggested is not ample, I will have to cut my guest list.

Answer: If you add cups of hot bouillon (or any other soup) to your menu that should be sufficient.

Telephoning Teen-Agers

Dear Mrs. Post: My young teenage son gets very upset when any of us ask, "Who is calling?" when one of his friends calls him on the telephone. If the person doesn't offer to give her, or his, name, I think it is quite within the bounds of politeness to ask. It applies to older members of the family so why not to the younger?

Answer: It isn't necessary to ask who is calling a boy or girl since it can't be anyone other than one of his (or her) friends. "Telephone for you, Johnny" is all that you are expected to say. Especially is this required behavior if any visitors of yours are within hearing, and the caller is a girl.

Health Programs To Be Studied by Outside Doctors

It has been announced by Dr. Robert H. Broad, commissioner of health, that two physicians in training have been assigned to the Ulster County Health Department for field experience, observation and participation in the numerous health department programs.

The physicians are Dr. Donald B. Thomas of Williamsville and Dr. Donald G. Dickson from Albion, Neb.

Dr. Thomas was graduated from the Medical School of the University of Buffalo and interned at the Deaconess Hospital in Buffalo. He participated in the New York State Junior Public Health Internship Program between his junior and senior years at medical school and was assigned to the New York State District Office at Jamestown.

After his internship at the Deaconess, Dr. Thomas was assigned as a resident physician to the Tompkins County Health Department. Last year Dr. Thomas attended the Harvard School of Public Health and was graduated last month with a Master of Public Health.

Dr. Donald G. Dickson is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and did internship in Norwegian Lutheran Hospital in Brooklyn. Editors on Visit To Ulster County

A typical cool, clear summer day was in store for members of the National Editorial Association who visited Ulster county today as a part of their post-convention tour of New York state.

Between 200 and 250 editors and members of their families were expected to arrive in Ulster county today and travel by Greyhound buses to Minnewaska where they will have lunch and then continue their tour through the county, down to Highland and on to New York.

At the close of their national convention in Buffalo the delegates divided into several groups and began extensive post-convention tours of the east.

Saturday a small group of members arrived at Minnewaska and spent the weekend there. Today they were to be joined by the larger group. A third group of delegates is touring Canada.

The larger group touring New York state were scheduled to leave Lake George this morning and travel to Minnewaska. The group traveling in several Greyhound buses are accompanied by Chester H. Bullen, sales manager for the Central Greyhound Bus Line, and other officials of travel agencies, including Joseph Horan, director of the Travel Bureau of the State of New York. Edward Huben, representing the Ulster-Greene Counties Vacationland area, arranged for a police escort while the visitors were in Ulster county.

Tour Kingston

The group was to be met at the junction of route 9W and the East Chester by-pass by Sheriff Cluett Schantz and escorted to the city line where a city police escort was to take the caravan through Kingston. The route was then out 209 to Kerhonkson and over the Minnewaska Trail to the Cliff House at Minnewaska where lunch was scheduled. The route then was over the trail to Highland and on to New York city.

The tour of New York state is sponsored by the Department of Commerce which took over the program at Buffalo.

Plans called for arrival at the By-Pass shortly before noon.

To Show Beauty

As a result of the tour the visit is expected to acquaint the visitors with some of the numerous beauty spots of the Catskills and Shawangunk mountain area and undoubtedly will result in widespread publicity for the area.

The tour was arranged in this area through the efforts of the New York State Travel Bureau and the State Department of Commerce. Included in the group are editors from all over the country.

Health Programs To Be Studied by Outside Doctors

It has been announced by Dr. Robert H. Broad, commissioner of health, that two physicians in training have been assigned to the Ulster County Health Department for field experience, observation and participation in the numerous health department programs.

The physicians are Dr. Donald B. Thomas of Williamsville and Dr. Donald G. Dickson from Albion, Neb.

Dr. Thomas was graduated from the Medical School of the University of Buffalo and interned at the Deaconess Hospital in Buffalo. He participated in the New York State Junior Public Health Internship Program between his junior and senior years at medical school and was assigned to the New York State District Office at Jamestown.

After his internship at the Deaconess, Dr. Thomas was assigned as a resident physician to the Tompkins County Health Department. Last year Dr. Thomas attended the Harvard School of Public Health and was graduated last month with a Master of Public Health.

Dr. Donald G. Dickson is a graduate of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and did internship in Norwegian Lutheran Hospital in Brooklyn. For a period of four years he engaged in the private practice of medicine in Albion, Nebraska, and was assigned to Ulster county last November. Dr. Dickson will remain in Ulster county until September when he will join Johns Hopkins Hospital for further study in public health work.

Editors on Visit To Ulster County

A typical cool, clear summer day was in store for members of the National Editorial Association who visited Ulster county today as a part of their post-convention tour of New York state.

Between 200 and 250 editors and members of their families were expected to arrive in Ulster county today and travel by Greyhound buses to Minnewaska where they will have lunch and then continue their tour through the county, down to Highland and on to New York.

At the close of their national convention in Buffalo the delegates divided into several groups and began extensive post-convention tours of the east.

Saturday a small group of members arrived at Minnewaska and spent the weekend there. Today they were to be joined by the larger group. A third group of delegates is touring Canada.

The larger group touring New York state were scheduled to leave Lake George this morning and travel to Minnewaska. The group traveling in several Greyhound buses are accompanied by Chester H. Bullen, sales manager for the Central Greyhound Bus Line, and other officials of travel agencies, including Joseph Horan, director of the Travel Bureau of the State of New York. Edward Huben, representing the Ulster-Greene Counties Vacationland area, arranged for a police escort while the visitors were in Ulster county.

Tour Kingston

The group was to be met at the junction of route 9W and the East Chester by-pass by Sheriff Cluett Schantz and escorted to the city line where a city police escort was to take the caravan through Kingston. The route was then out 209 to Kerhonkson and over the Minnewaska Trail to the Cliff House at Minnewaska where lunch was scheduled. The route then was over the trail to Highland and on to New York city.

The tour of New York state is sponsored by the Department of Commerce which took over the program at Buffalo.

Plans called for arrival at the By-Pass shortly before noon.

To Show Beauty

As a result of the tour the visit is expected to acquaint the visitors with some of the numerous beauty spots of the Catskills and Shawangunk mountain area and undoubtedly will result in widespread publicity for the area.

The tour was arranged in this area through the efforts of the New York State Travel Bureau and the State Department of Commerce. Included in the group are editors from all over the country.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Knowing Opponent Will Improve Game

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When I was a boy in school I was taught that the height of wisdom was to know myself. When I began to take bridge seriously, however, I discovered that it was equally important to know the other fellow.

Others have made the same discovery, of course, and today's hand shows how Morton Wild, a prominent New York businessman, made use of his post-graduate wisdom in a bridge game.

The contract was reasonable enough, and Wild felt quite pleased when he won the first trick with dummy's ace of hearts. His next step, properly enough was to cash dummy's ace and king of diamonds.

When East dropped the jack of diamonds, Wild felt the first pangs of worry. The reason was that this particular East happened to be a gent who would rather false-card than eat.

If this East held the queen as well as the jack of diamonds, he would surely drop the queen instead of the jack.

Since it was clear that the diamonds were breaking badly, there was only one course to follow. Declarer ruffed a heart and led a low diamond, ruffing with dummy's ten. The danger of an over-ruff could not be prevented, but it was possible to shut East out unless he had the jack of trumps.

As it happened, East could only discard harmlessly. And now declarer could ruff a low spade and ruff another low diamond with dummy's remaining trump. If East had been able to over-ruff there would then be only three trumps out, and Wild's top trumps would easily draw them.

When East was unable to over-ruff, it was easy for declarer to get back to his hand to draw three rounds of trumps and concede one trick to West's jack.

"Tsk, tsk," Wild then reproved West. "Such poor defense. You should have picked a better opening lead."

West looked a long time before he found the only opening lead that would have defeated the contract. It was the last card that he'd have thought of leading. Just try to make the slam contract against the opening lead of the jack of clubs.

You know these folks!

They're friends and neighbors of yours — live on your block or around the corner from you. They have one thing in common . . . all heat with city gas. If you were to talk with them they might very well say something like this:

I'm a salesman.
I'm on the road all day — sometimes don't get home until very late at night. My wife was never made to tend a furnace and I'm not there to do it. So what happens? We use gas. And there's nothing to think about using that.

I'm a housewife.
Gas is clean — that's what I like about it. My job of house cleaning and keeping is a fraction of what it used to be.

I'm in a department store.
I deal with bargains all day. When you get a bargain with quality, you've got something. Gas is quality heating — it has features no other fuel can touch.

I'm an accountant.
I deal in figures. From a cost angle, when you compare gas with the cost of other fuels, it's right in line. Costs much less than you think.

I'm a milkman.
I'm up and out at four o'clock in the morning. No matter what time I'm in or out, the house is as warm as can be. No fires to build and tend, no ashes to carry out. That's for me!

I'm a mechanic.
I like nice machinery. The equipment for 100% automatic gas heating is nice machinery — easy to install, easy to maintain and, with its few moving parts, long lived.

Why don't you talk first hand with the folks you know who heat with gas? Get their opinion of their experience with gas. And keep this in mind — now, with summer, is the time to prepare for the next heating season.

You know these folks!

They're friends and neighbors of yours — live on your block or around the corner from you. They have one thing in common . . . all heat with city gas. If you were to talk with them they might very well say something like this:

I'm a salesman.

I'm on the road all day — sometimes don't get home until very late at night. My wife was never made to tend a furnace and I'm not there to do it. So what happens? We use gas. And there's nothing to think about using that.

I'm a housewife.

Gas is clean — that's what I like about it. My job of house cleaning and keeping is a fraction of what it used to be.

I'm in a department store.

I deal with bargains all day. When you get a bargain with quality, you've got something. Gas is quality heating — it has features no other fuel can touch.

I'm an accountant.

I deal in figures. From a cost angle, when you compare gas with the cost of other fuels, it's right in line. Costs much less than you think.

I'm a milkman.

I'm up and out at four o'clock in the morning. No matter what time I'm in or out, the house is as warm as can be. No fires to build and tend, no ashes to carry out. That's for me!

I'm a mechanic.

I like nice machinery. The equipment for 100% automatic gas heating is nice machinery — easy to install, easy to maintain and, with its few moving parts, long lived.

Why don't you talk first hand with the folks you know who heat with gas? Get their opinion of their experience with gas. And keep this in mind — now, with summer, is the time to prepare for the next heating season.

Communist Says He Served as U. S. Security Officer

New York, July 1 (AP)—A Communist says he once served as a war-time "anti-subversive officer" in the United States Army while holding membership in the Communist party.

This disclosure came in a public hearing yesterday from Herbert Aptheker, self-admitted Communist and history teacher at the Jefferson School of Social Science here.

He told a two-member panel of the Subversives Activities Control Board:

"The army made me an anti-subversive officer. I became a member of S-2, an intelligent unit. I was actively in charge of artillery duties but I also served as security officer. An anti-subversive officer at that time meant anti-Fascist."

The board is trying to determine whether the Communist party in the United States should be made to register as a Russian agent.

Huben Honored For Long Service

At this lesson there was group discussion on the basis of selection for slip covers, color, design, weave, and how to test color fastness to washing and sun was also discussed.

Each leader took part in preparing a pattern for a slip cover, which was used for a demonstration of how to cut, pin, fit and check grain lines.

The bulletin used by the class is Chair Covers, Cornell miscellaneous bulletin 7. Other lessons will be held on August 7, 14, and 28.

Those who attended the lesson were the Mmes. Giles Randall, Forest Glen; Elmer Schoonmaker, DeWitt Hasbrouck, High Falls; Arthur Crose, Kerhonkson; Henry Dunbar, Walter Vollmeke, Lomontville; Janice Frankle, Frances Timmerman, Olive; Clarence Anderson, Merritt Kiff, West Hurley; Charles Lamphere, Milford Wendland, Wiltwyck; and Lucille McDonald, Wynkoop.

Judge Refuses To End Writs in Remington Case

New York, July 1 (AP)—A federal judge has refused to throw out the perjury indictments against William W. Remington, former government economist.

Remington, 35, was convicted last year of lying when he told a Federal Grand Jury he never had been a Communist party member. But the U. S. Court of Appeals reversed the verdict.

Since then, a new indictment has been returned on the basis of his testimony in the first trial.

Yesterday Federal Judge John F. X. McGohey ruled that the indictments stand. And he refused Remington's request for a probe of the conduct of the grand jury that first accused him.

However, McGohey approved a defense motion that the prosecution specify the "overt acts" which the government claims show Remington "believed he had paid Communist party dues."

Remington lives in Ridgewood, N. J. He has been free in $7,000 bail. Date for the second trial has not been set.

It has been found that the best time to transfer bees to new hives is during the fruit-blooming season.

84 Babies Delivered At Kingston Hospital

During the month of June 84 babies were born at Kingston Hospital—47 boys and 37 girls.

Administrator William Sheldon reported that 33 of the births, which included one set of twins and two prematures, were at night. One mother, he said, delivered her 17th child.

Sheldon pointed out that there was plenty of nursery space at the hospital to handle the infants but that, at times during the month, beds had to be set up in the corridors for patients.

Yankees Overwhelm Giants, 22-5 Lead Little League by One Game

Set Seasonal Mark With Run Output

The league-leading Yankees, who seem to be able to beat everybody but the Red Sox, murdered the Giants, 22 to 5, in the KAA Little League Monday at the 156th FA diamond.

The Yankees piled up inning totals like your favorite telephone number and the gross output of 22 tallies set a new seasonal record.

With three runs in the first inning the Giants started out bravely enough but the Yankees chased four runs across in their half of the first and racked up five markers in each of the next three innings. They slumped off to three in their final turn at bat.

Three Pitchers Work

Danny Steltz, little Joe Clark and Charlie Tiano combined to hold the Giants to seven hits, while big Gene Nagele and Paul Klonowski stroked three hits each to lead a 13-hit Yankee attack.

Nagele rapped a double and two singles and Klonowski had three singletons. Steltz, the hittingest pitcher in the loop, slumped from his .700 average with two hits in four trips. Charlie Tiano also came up with a pair of singles.

Pete Esposito, the Giant shortstop, accounted for a trio of Giant safeties, while heavy hitting Dave O'Connor maintained his high average with a single and double.

The victory boosted the Yankees' lead to a full game over the Dodgers, all of the margin in the won column. Both clubs have dropped two games but the Yankees hold a 5-3 margin in victories.

The Dodgers can cut the Yankee margin in half with a win over the troublesome Red Sox in today's game.

Musial and Rosen Batting Leaders

New York, July 1 (AP)—Stan Musial, an old hand at winning batting titles, tops the National League's hit parade for the second straight week today while Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians continues to set the pace in the American League.

Musial, the all-star outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, boasted a batting mark of .336 through games of last night. The Card slugger, seeking his sixth championship and third straight, has collected 86 hits in 256 trips to the plate and enjoys a nine-point lead over Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson.

Rosen, who never has batted .300 in his major league career, is out in front in the American League with a .332 average. Ferris Fain, last year's title winner, is second with a .323 figure.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting: Roy Smalley, Cubs—Batted in all Chicago's runs with a double and home run as the Cubs nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4.

Pitching: Dick Brodowski, Red Sox—The 19-year-old righthander, making only his second big league start, handcuffed the Yankees with four hits as the Red Sox won their first game of the season at Yankee Stadium, 4-3.

Paris — Charles Humes, 157, France, stopped Tony Janiro, 157½, Youngstown, Ohio (5).

Big Danny Steltz, the Yankee pitching ace who specializes in big strikeout totals, is also the KAA Little League's most potent batsman, according to averages released today by league secretary, Jake Chichelsky.

Big Danny boasts an incredible .736 mark with 14 hits in 19 times at bat. George Uhl, of the Dodgers, and the Giants' David O'Connor are also up in the stratosphere with .647 and .611 respectively. Uhl has 11 for 17 and O'Connor 11 for 18.

The Red Sox boast a trio of .400 hitters in Michael Perry .470; Charlie Boice .461; and Tom Van Etten .407.

Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Friend and Murry Dickson appear destined to become the first Pittsburgh pitchers to lose 20 games in one season while Art Houtteman is well on his way to absorbing the most defeats in Detroit's American League history.

Each of the trio has dropped 11 decisions to share the dubious distinction of being the "losingest" pitchers in the majors. Friend and Houtteman lost their 11th game yesterday and their seventh in a row. Dickson lost his 11th last Saturday. All are toiling for last place outfits.

Since Detroit has played 68 games, Houtteman stands to lose 25 this year unless he undergoes a complete reversal of form or his luck changes. At the same ratio, Friend and Dickson figure to lose 24 games since Pittsburgh has played 71 of its 154 games.

No Pittsburg pitcher of modern times (since 1900) has lost 20 games. Wilbur Cooper (1923), Frank Miller (1917) and Elmer Jacobs (1917) are the biggest Pirate losers at 19 each. Only four Detroit pitchers ever lost 20 or more games in a single season, with George Mullin suffering the ignominy three times. He lost 23 games 1904, the most of any Tiger hurler.

Maglie On Upswing

In sharp contrast, Sal Maglie of the New York Giants and Gerry Staley of the St. Louis Cardinals advanced another step toward their 20-victory goal yesterday. Maglie notched his 11th triumph despite a shoddy performance as the Giants swept a doubleheader from the Boston Braves, 8-7 and 4-0, to move within 3½ games of Brooklyn. Staley registered his 10th success in the Cardinals' 7-4 win over Cincinnati.

Both big league pace-setters suffered surprising defeats as rookie Dick Brodowski pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 4-3 victory over the Yankees in New York and veteran Karl Drews hurled the Philadelphia Phils to a 4-0 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers in Brooklyn. The Yankees now are three and a half games ahead of Boston and Chicago.

Dobson Stops Tigers

The White Sox, behind veteran Joe Dobson's five-hit pitching, thrashed Houtteman and the Tigers, 7-2. Washington trimmed the Athletics, 6-2, as Frank Shea registered his sixth win against two defeats with a neat seven-hitter.

The Chicago Cubs set back Friend and the Pirates, 5-4, as shortstop Roy Smalley batted in all the winners' runs with a double and homer.

Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns were idle, causing the Indians to drop into fifth place.

Jocko Maggiacomo In Arlington Debut

Jocko Maggiacomo, the Poughkeepsie Flyer, makes his Arlington Speedway debut with the famous "Ross 19" with which he won the 1951 Grand Circuit championship, Wednesday at 8:30 p. m.

Maggiacomo is again leading the entire United Circuit in points and has registered 12 first places.

Others expected in the field are such popular performers as Doug Benjamin, Duke Washburn, Stan Bomba, Hal McCarty, Ray "Zero" Brown and Stan Disbrow.

THE NEW GOLF CHAMPION RECEIVES HIS TROPHY

Raichle's Victory Wildly Acclaimed by Golf Fans; Wiltwyck Veteran Played 'Hogan-Type' Game to Win

"Dubby" Raichle's victory in the Father Herdegen Memorial tournament was wildly acclaimed by the "Old Guard" of local golf. You know the fellows "40 or over." He was completely overlooked in pre-tournament speculation and anybody they said, could tell you the winner would emerge from a group of four or five.

Raichle fooled the golf fans, first by taking the lead; second, by holding it and third, refusing to buckle under pressure. He made like Ben Hogan, carefully plotting his courses and staying away from the troublesome long woods. He almost eagled the first hole Sunday at Wiltwyck and survived a three-hole blitz by George Hughes the second time around.

Ed O'Reilly spoke for the "Old Guard" . . . "It's great to see a fellow of our age win the championship," he said. "It couldn't happen to a nicer guy." "And, he added with reflection, "those other young fellows will be around for a long time. They can wait. As expected the 72-hole grind and summer rules claimed several casualties. Allen Waterous of Woodstock conked out on the last nine and said he wanted to follow "the good players." Dick Overbagh bowed out at 86 holes with a sprained ankle. Bill Waterous and Jim Mellin missed out but Mellin played an unofficial card for the 72 holes.

Ted King of Woodstock and Dr. Rod Ball of Twaalfskill were missing in action. Reports from Saugerties said Dr. Ball was under treatment by Dr. Robert McCaig for extreme anguish and shock following rounds of "90" at Palenville and Woodstock. Roy Vogt had a recurrence of an old back injury and missed the last 36 holes. Milton Smith of Ellenville didn't finish and J. Watson Bailey's bad foot kept him out of the last three rounds. Frank Stone, Frank McCahill of Woodstock, and Bill Newkirk were subs.

Bill Van Aken was the "elevator guy" of the tournament. He opened with 89 at Palenville, shot 70 at Woodstock, 87 at Twaalfskill and a sub par 69 at Wiltwyck. Dick Davenport's 69, with a nine-hole 32, lowest in the tournament, at Twaalfskill tied Van Aken for low-round honors. Many thanks are due Ralph Gardner and Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., for their assistance in making the second tournament a huge success. Bill Ingalls rates a bow as scorekeeper. The golf pros—Alex Gerlak, Jim Hutchins, Ray Smith and Tom Danaher — get orchids for the splendid job they did on the respective courses. A bow to the ladies of Woodstock and Wiltwyck for their assistance with the buffet luncheons. Jim Hutchins and the missus came down from Woodstock for the presentation.

Raichle and Hughes, oddly enough, were the only players in the field to post four consecutive rounds under 80. Warren Nesbitt, the nice looking Ellenville prospect and Leon Randall missed by one. A 45 on the first nine ruined Nesbitt and Leon's outgoing 46 sounded incredible. Bob O'Reilly could sympathize with Bill Kaufman. Bill shot 100 at Wiltwyck in 1951 and Bob tied it Sunday, aided by a couple of 10s. The early morning shower was menacing but the play would have continued until the greens flooded Tom Danaher and Homer Van Aken did a marvelous job on the No. 1 fairway. Nesbitt got some consolation with a birdie "3" on Wiltwyck's third hole. And that, friends, is a bird of birds. As expected, Wiltwyck proved a graveyard for some of the contenders. Carroll Schipp of Ellenville was in contention with 233 but ballooned to an unspectacular 97.

Wiltwyck re-asserted its area match game supremacy by placing seven men in the first 10. Par or sub-par nine-hole scores were scarce. Van Aken came up with a pair of 34s and a 35. Jerry Wells and Raichle had 34s. Bill Stifler and Harvey Bostic carded 35s and Dick Davenport's 32 Saturday at Twaalfskill was the lowest in the tournament.

The format for next year's tournament has already been decided. Handicap minimums will be upped to 15 with a 36-hole qualifying test. The field will be cut for the last two rounds.

Meanwhile, congratulations to "Dubby" Raichle, a real champion!

Judges Selected For Field Day

Three judges and an official starter have been assigned for the "50" Club's annual children's field day and picnic on July 4 at Block Park. The judges are George "Bud" McCardle, Harry Letus and Eddie Jordan. Ed Trombley, former KHS track star, will be the official starter.

These officials have been assigned because of their splendid work in the last two meets and none is a member of the "50" Club.

Golden Cops Feature

Jerry Golden won the 25-lap feature Saturday at Rhinebeck Speedway, with Ken Goodermote a close second. Warren Bohnsack was third. The races will be resumed Saturday at 8:30 p. m.

Special Meeting Set for Wednesday

Chez Emile and Boulevard Gulf clash in a regularly scheduled City Baseball League contest at 6:15 p. m. today at the Athletic Field.

Both clubs carry identical records of 3 and 3 and will have a chance to reduce Wiltwyck Motors' lead by percentage points. At the moment, today's contestants are a half game out.

The Motormen, who suffered a surprise 10-2 pasting at the hands of the Colonial Merchants on Sunday, are paired with Jones Dairy in a makeup game on Wednesday.

A special meeting has been called for Wednesday evening after the Jones Dairy-Wiltwyck game in the city court room. In the event of a postponement, the meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m., in the same place.

Yankees Overwhelm Giants, 22-5 Lead Little League by One Game

Set Seasonal Mark With Run Output

The league-leading Yankees, who seem to be able to beat everybody but the Red Sox, murdered the Giants, 22 to 5, in the KAA Little League Monday at the 156th FA diamond.

The Yankees piled up inning totals like your favorite telephone number and the gross output of 22 tallies set a new seasonal record.

With three runs in the first inning the Giants started out bravely enough but the Yankees chased four runs across in their half of the first and racked up five markers in each of the next three innings. They slumped off to three in their final turn at bat.

Three Pitchers Work

Danny Steltz, little Joe Clark and Charlie Tiano combined to hold the Giants to seven hits, while big Gene Nagele and Paul Klonowski stroked three hits each to lead a 13-hit Yankee attack.

Nagele rapped a double and two singles and Klonowski had three singletons. Steltz, the hittingest pitcher in the loop, slumped from his .700 average with two hits in four trips. Charlie Tiano also came up with a pair of singles.

Pete Esposito, the Giant shortstop, accounted for a trio of Giant safeties, while heavy hitting Dave O'Connor maintained his high average with a single and double.

The victory boosted the Yankees' lead to a full game over the Dodgers, all of the margin in the won column. Both clubs have dropped two games but the Yankees hold a 5-3 margin in victories.

The Dodgers can cut the Yankee margin in half with a win over the troublesome Red Sox in today's game.

Musial and Rosen Batting Leaders

New York, July 1 (AP)—Stan Musial, an old hand at winning batting titles, tops the National League's hit parade for the second straight week today while Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians continues to set the pace in the American League.

Musial, the all-star outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals, boasted a batting mark of .336 through games of last night. The Card slugger, seeking his sixth championship and third straight, has collected 86 hits in 256 trips to the plate and enjoys a nine-point lead over Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson.

Rosen, who never has batted .300 in his major league career, is out in front in the American League with a .332 average. Ferris Fain, last year's title winner, is second with a .323 figure.

Yesterday's Stars
(By The Associated Press)

Batting: Roy Smalley, Cubs—Batted in all Chicago's runs with a double and home run as the Cubs nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4.

Pitching: Dick Brodowski, Red Sox—The 19-year-old righthander, making only his second big league start, handcuffed the Yankees with four hits as the Red Sox won their first game of the season at Yankee Stadium, 4-3.

Paris — Charles Humes, 157, France, stopped Tony Janiro, 157½, Youngstown, Ohio (5).

Big Danny Steltz, the Yankee pitching ace who specializes in big strikeout totals, is also the KAA Little League's most potent batsman, according to averages released today by league secretary, Jake Chichelsky.

Big Danny boasts an incredible .736 mark with 14 hits in 19 times at bat. George Uhl, of the Dodgers, and the Giants' David O'Connor are also up in the stratosphere with .647 and .611 respectively. Uhl has 11 for 17 and O'Connor 11 for 18.

Hobart Armstrong, the flashy Dodger slugger, is tabbed at .579 but his four home runs make him leader in that coveted department.

The Red Sox boast a trio of .400 hitters in Michael Perry .470; Charlie Boice .461; and Tom Van Etten .407.

Bob Friend and Murry Dickson appear destined to become the first Pittsburgh pitchers to lose 20 games in one season while Art Houtteman is well on his way to absorbing the most defeats in Detroit's American League history.

Each of the trio has dropped 11 decisions to share the dubious distinction of being the "losingest" pitchers in the majors. Friend and Houtteman lost their 11th game yesterday and their seventh in a row. Dickson lost his 11th last Saturday. All are toiling for last place outfits.

Since Detroit has played 68 games, Houtteman stands to lose 25 this year unless he undergoes a complete reversal of form or his luck changes. At the same ratio, Friend and Dickson figure to lose 24 games since Pittsburgh has played 71 of its 154 games.

No Pittsburg pitcher of modern times (since 1900) has lost 20 games. Wilbur Cooper (1923), Frank Miller (1917) and Elmer Jacobs (1917) are the biggest Pirate losers at 19 each. Only four Detroit pitchers ever lost 20 or more games in a single season, with George Mullin suffering the ignominy three times. He lost 23 games 1904, the most of any Tiger hurler.

Maglie On Upswing

In sharp contrast, Sal Maglie of the New York Giants and Gerry Staley of the St. Louis Cardinals advanced another step toward their 20-victory goal yesterday. Maglie notched his 11th triumph despite a shoddy performance as the Giants swept a doubleheader from the Boston Braves, 8-7 and 4-0, to move within 3½ games of Brooklyn. Staley registered his 10th success in the Cardinals' 7-4 win over Cincinnati.

Both big league pace-setters suffered surprising defeats as rookie Dick Brodowski pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 4-3 victory over the Yankees in New York and veteran Karl Drews hurled the Philadelphia Phils to a 4-0 win over the Brooklyn Dodgers in Brooklyn. The Yankees now are three and a half games ahead of Boston and Chicago.

Dobson Stops Tigers

The White Sox, behind veteran Joe Dobson's five-hit pitching, thrashed Houtteman and the Tigers, 7-2. Washington trimmed the Athletics, 6-2, as Frank Shea registered his sixth win against two defeats with a neat seven-hitter.

The Chicago Cubs set back Friend and the Pirates, 5-4, as shortstop Roy Smalley batted in all the winners' runs with a double and homer.

Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns were idle, causing the Indians to drop into fifth place.

Jocko Maggiacomo In Arlington Debut

Jocko Maggiacomo, the Poughkeepsie Flyer, makes his Arlington Speedway debut with the famous "Ross 19" with which he won the 1951 Grand Circuit championship, Wednesday at 8:30 p. m.

Maggiacomo is again leading the entire United Circuit in points and has registered 12 first places.

Others expected in the field are such popular performers as Doug Benjamin, Duke Washburn, Stan Bomba, Hal McCarty, Ray "Zero" Brown and Stan Disbrow.

Crystal Hanover Wins $18,485 Oaks Feature

Goshen, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—The E. H. Harriman Challenge Cup for two-year-old trotters is the feature of the second day of Grand Circuit harness racing today at Historic track.

The five-day meeting of the Orange County Driving Park Association opened yesterday, with Crystal Hanover capturing the $18,485 Coaching Club Trotting Oaks for three-year-old fillies.

Crystal Hanover, owned by D. R. Johnston, P. J. Baugh and T. W. Church, Jr., of Charlotte, N. C., took the second elimination heat then stood off My Precious, victor in the first elimination, in the third and final whirl.

Time for the final heat was 2:08 1/5, for the mile race—twice around Historic's half-mile oval. Crystal Hanover had won the second heat in 2.07 1/5. The winner was driven by Henry Myott.

Raichle's Victory Wildly Acclaimed by Golf Fans; Wiltwyck Veteran Played 'Hogan-Type' Game to Win

"Dubby" Raichle's victory in the Father Herdegen Memorial tournament was wildly acclaimed by the "Old Guard" of local golf. You know the fellows "40 or over." He was completely overlooked in pre-tournament speculation and anybody they said, could tell you the winner would emerge from a group of four or five.

Raichle fooled the golf fans, first by taking the lead; second, by holding it and third, refusing to buckle under pressure. He made like Ben Hogan, carefully plotting his courses and staying away from the troublesome long woods. He almost eagled the first hole Sunday at Wiltwyck and survived a three-hole blitz by George Hughes the second time around.

Ed O'Reilly spoke for the "Old Guard" . . . "It's great to see a fellow of our age win the championship," he said. "It couldn't happen to a nicer guy." "And, he added with reflection, "those other young fellows will be around for a long time. They can wait. As expected the 72-hole grind and summer rules claimed several casualties. Allen Waterous of Woodstock conked out on the last nine and said he wanted to follow "the good players." Dick Overbagh bowed out at 36 holes with a sprained ankle. Bill Waterous and Jim Mellin missed out but Mellin played an unofficial card for the 72 holes.

Ted King of Woodstock and Dr. Rod Ball of Twaalfskill were missing in action. Reports from Saugerties said Dr. Ball was under treatment by Dr. Robert McCaig for extreme anguish and shock following rounds of "90" at Palenville and Woodstock. Roy Vogt had a recurrence of an old back injury and missed the last 36 holes. Milton Smith of Ellenville didn't finish and J. Watson Bailey's bad foot kept him out of the last three rounds. Frank Stone, Frank McCahill of Woodstock, and Bill Newkirk were subs.

Bill Van Aken was the "elevator guy" of the tournament. He opened with 89 at Palenville, shot 70 at Woodstock, 87 at Twaalfskill and a sub par 69 at Wiltwyck. Dick Davenport's 69, with a nine-hole 32, lowest in the tournament, at Twaalfskill tied Van Aken for low-round honors. Many thanks are due Ralph Gardner and Dr. Fred Holcomb, Jr., for their assistance in making the second tournament a huge success. Bill Ingalls rates a bow as scorekeeper. The golf pros—Alex Gerlak, Jim Hutchins, Ray Smith and Tom Danaher — get orchids for the splendid job they did on the respective courses. A bow to the ladies of Woodstock and Wiltwyck for their assistance with the buffet luncheons. Jim Hutchins and the missus came down from Woodstock for the presentation.

Raichle and Hughes, oddly enough, were the only players in the field to post four consecutive rounds under 80. Warren Nesbitt, the nice looking Ellenville prospect and Leon Randall missed by one. A 45 on the first nine ruined Nesbitt and Leon's outgoing 46 sounded incredible. Bob O'Reilly could sympathize with Bill Kaufman. Bill shot 100 at Wiltwyck in 1951 and Bob tied it Sunday, aided by a couple of 10s. The early morning shower was menacing but the play would have continued until the greens flooded Tom Danaher and Homer Van Aken did a marvelous job on the No. 1 fairway. Nesbitt got some consolation with a birdie "3" on Wiltwyck's third hole. And that, friends, is a bird of birds. As expected, Wiltwyck proved a graveyard for some of the contenders. Carroll Schipp of Ellenville was in contention with 233 but balloned to an unspectacular 97.

Wiltwyck re-asserted its area match game supremacy by placing seven men in the first 10. Par or sub-par nine-hole scores were scarce. Van Aken came up with a pair of 34s and a 35. Jerry Wells and Raichle had 34s. Bill Stifler and Harvey Bostic carded 35s and Dick Davenport's 32 Saturday at Twaalfskill was the lowest in the tournament.

The format for next year's tournament has already been decided. Handicap minimums will be upped to 15 with a 36-hole qualifying test. The field will be cut for the last two rounds.

Meanwhile, congratulations to "Dubby" Raichle, a real champion!

Chezzies-Boulevard Game in City League

Judges Selected For Field Day

Three judges and an official starter have been assigned for the "50" Club's annual children's field day and picnic on July 4 at Block Park. The judges are George "Bud" McCardle, Harry Letus and Eddie Jordan. Ed Trombley, former KHS track star, will be the official starter.

These officials have been assigned because of their splendid work in the last two meets and none is a member of the "50" Club.

Golden Cops Feature

Jerry Golden won the 25-lap feature Saturday at Rhinebeck Speedway, with Ken Goodermote a close second. Warren Bohnsack was third. The races will be resumed Saturday at 8:30 p. m.

Special Meeting Set for Wednesday

Chez Emile and Boulevard Gulf clash in a regularly scheduled City Baseball League contest at 6:15 p. m. today at the Athletic Field.

Both clubs carry identical records of 3 and 3 and will have a chance to reduce Wiltwyck Motors' lead by percentage points. At the moment, today's contestants are a half game out.

The Motormen, who suffered a surprise 10-2 pasting at the hands of the Colonial Merchants on Sunday, are paired with Jones Dairy in a makeup game on Wednesday.

A special meeting has been called for Wednesday evening after the Jones Dairy-Wiltwyck game in the city court room. In the event of a postponement, the meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m., in the same place.

American Stars Have .290 Team Average; Bobby Shantz (13-2) Probable Starter

Chicago, July 1 (AP)—An American League lineup with an overall batting average of near .290 and a six-man pitching staff with a total of at least 50 wins will be at Manager Casey Stengel's command to besiege the National Leaguers in the All Star game.

A poll of the nation's baseball fans determined all starters for the annual classic except the pitchers.

Stengel had full authority to pick his hurling corps and came up with Vic Raschi (6-2) and Allie Reynolds (9-4) of his own New York Yankees; Mike Garcia (11-5) and Bob Lemon (6-7) of Cleveland; ageless Satchel Paige (5-2), St. Louis' peerless relief hurler, and Bobby Shantz of Philadelphia (13-2), the only lefty.

The mound starter probably will be Shantz since the big game on July 8 will be played in the amazing little hurler's own backyard. Philadelphia's Shibe Park.

Eight .300 Hitters

At the current batting rate, Stengel will have eight .300 or better hitters to bombard the senior circuit as the Americans try to break a two-game losing streak in the All Star series.

Out of this bunch, the fans' choice as starters who must play at least the first three innings unless injury or illness intervenes are Robinson, Rosen, Mitchell and DiMaggio.

The other starters are Bobby Avila, Cleveland, at second; Phil Rizzuto, New York, shortstop; Hank Bauer, New York, right field, and the Yankees' catcher, Yogi Berra, who tops the league in homers with 15.

Completing the squad are Nellie Fox, Chicago, second base; Jim Hegan, Cleveland, catcher; Eddie Joost, Philadelphia shortstop; Ed Yost, Washington, third base; and outfielders Minnie Minoso of Chicago, Larry Doby of Cleveland and Vic Wertz of Detroit who has banged 14 homers.

Hahn Exhibition Open to Public

The exhibition of trick golf shots and comedy routine by the nationally famous Paul Hahn, scheduled at 7 p. m. today at Twaalfskill Golf Club, is open to the public, Alex Gerlak, club pro, said this morning.

The exhibition will last more than an hour and is said to be one of the most interesting in golf.

Luscious Luke Sent to Minors

Cleveland, July 1 (AP)—Luke Easter — such a big guy fans looked for him to homer every time he came up—has left the Cleveland Indians for their minor league farm club at Indianapolis.

The Tribe optioned Easter, their regular first baseman of the past three seasons, to Indianapolis last night on 24-hour recall. In return they bought Dave Pope, 27-year-old Negro outfielder from Indianapolis.

Whether Luke ever comes back to the majors depends on his success against American Association pitching in overcoming a slump that dropped his batting average to .208 and also made his fielding unsteady.

Both manager Al Lopez and General Manager Hank Greenberg said they thought the six-foot-four, 235-pound slugger would return. Luke, more than any other Indian, had been mentioned as the key to the Indians' 1952 pennant chances. Neither Lopez nor Greenberg have given up hope he will provide some long-ball hitting in the stretch drive.

Lopez thinks Easter may return before the month is out. He said last night:

"If Luke has not regained his batting form at the end of three weeks, then he never will. Personally, I think that he will snap back and return to this club to help us a lot."

Easter led the team in homers last season with 27 and he drove home 103 runs.

American Stars Have .290 Team Average; Bobby Shantz (13-2) Probable Starter

Chicago, July 1 (AP)—An American League lineup with an overall batting average of near .290 and a six-man pitching staff with a total of at least 50 wins will be at Manager Casey Stengel's command to besiege the National Leaguers in the All Star game.

A poll of the nation's baseball fans determined all starters for the annual classic except the pitchers.

Stengel had full authority to pick his hurling corps and came up with Vic Raschi (6-2) and Allie Reynolds (9-4) of his own New York Yankees; Mike Garcia (11-5) and Bob Lemon (6-7) of Cleveland; ageless Satchel Paige (5-2), St. Louis' peerless relief hurler, and Bobby Shantz of Philadelphia (13-2), the only lefty.

The mound starter probably will be Shantz since the big game on July 8 will be played in the amazing little hurler's own backyard. Philadelphia's Shibe Park.

Eight .300 Hitters

At the current batting rate, Stengel will have eight .300 or better hitters to bombard the senior circuit as the Americans try to break a two-game losing streak in the All Star series.

Out of this bunch, the fans' choice as starters who must play at least the first three innings unless injury or illness intervenes are Robinson, Rosen, Mitchell and DiMaggio.

The other starters are Bobby Avila, Cleveland, at second; Phil Rizzuto, New York, shortstop; Hank Bauer, New York, right field, and the Yankees' catcher, Yogi Berra, who tops the league in homers with 15.

Completing the squad are Nellie Fox, Chicago, second base; Jim Hegan, Cleveland, catcher; Eddie Joost, Philadelphia shortstop; Ed Yost, Washington, third base; and outfielders Minnie Minoso of Chicago, Larry Doby of Cleveland and Vic Wertz of Detroit who has banged 14 homers.

Hahn Exhibition Open to Public

The exhibition of trick golf shots and comedy routine by the nationally famous Paul Hahn, scheduled at 7 p. m. today at Twaalfskill Golf Club, is open to the public, Alex Gerlak, club pro, said this morning.

The exhibition will last more than an hour and is said to be one of the most interesting in golf.

Luscious Luke Sent to Minors

Cleveland, July 1 (AP)—Luke Easter — such a big guy fans looked for him to homer every time he came up—has left the Cleveland Indians for their minor league farm club at Indianapolis.

The Tribe optioned Easter, their regular first baseman of the past three seasons, to Indianapolis last night on 24-hour recall. In return they bought Dave Pope, 27-year-old Negro outfielder from Indianapolis.

Whether Luke ever comes back to the majors depends on his success against American Association pitching in overcoming a slump that dropped his batting average to .208 and also made his fielding unsteady.

Both manager Al Lopez and General Manager Hank Greenberg said they thought the six-foot-four, 235-pound slugger would return. Luke, more than any other Indian, had been mentioned as the key to the Indians' 1952 pennant chances. Neither Lopez nor Greenberg have given up hope he will provide some long-ball hitting in the stretch drive.

Lopez thinks Easter may return before the month is out. He said last night:

"If Luke has not regained his batting form at the end of three weeks, then he never will. Personally, I think that he will snap back and return to this club to help us a lot."

Easter led the team in homers last season with 27 and he drove home 103 runs.

Bard Professors Uphold Challenge To Univ. of South

Annandale-on-Hudson, July 1—Support for the eight teachers of religion at the Univeristy of the South, Swanee, Tenn., who recently challenged the chancellor and trustees to admit Negro students to the School of Theology came yesterday from the Bard College Chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

In a letter to one of the professors, The Rev. Frederick Q. Shafer, S.T.D., head of the Department of Religion in the College of Arts and Sciences, Mr. W. E. Lensing, secretary of the Bard Chapter stated: "I have been instructed to communicate to you our warmest support of you and your colleagues at the University of the South with respect to your action concerning the admission of Negroes". Dr. Shafer is an alumnus and former chaplain of Bard College and a one-time rector of St. John's Church, Barrytown

The position of the eight faculty members at the University of the South, all of whom have indicated their intention of resigning in June 1953 if satisfactory action is not taken, in brief, was that denying Negroes admission "compromises us as priests and teachers in this University which is owned by the Episcopal Church."

Domestication of the cat is credited to the ancient Egyptians.

Brothers Breed Chinchilla

Indianapolis (AP)—Two brothers started with two pairs of chinchilla three years ago and now they have 67 of the precious rodents on their 250-acre chinchilla ranch. The chinchilla, valued at $1,500 a pair, was almost extinct in 1922, say Louis and Charles Darko. The brothers say it will be several years before enough breeding stock is accumulated to put pelts on the market.

Bard Professors Uphold Challenge To Univ. of South

Annandale-on-Hudson, July 1—Support for the eight teachers of religion at the Univeristy of the South, Swanee, Tenn., who recently challenged the chancellor and trustees to admit Negro students to the School of Theology came yesterday from the Bard College Chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

In a letter to one of the professors, The Rev. Frederick Q. Shafer, S.T.D., head of the Department of Religion in the College of Arts and Sciences, Mr. W. E. Lensing, secretary of the Bard Chapter stated: "I have been instructed to communicate to you our warmest support of you and your colleagues at the University of the South with respect to your action concerning the admission of Negroes". Dr. Shafer is an alumnus and former chaplain of Bard College and a one-time rector of St. John's Church, Barrytown.

The position of the eight faculty members at the University of the South, all of whom have indicated their intention of resigning in June 1953 if satisfactory action is not taken, in brief, was that denying Negroes admission "compromises us as priests and teachers in this University which is owned by the Episcopal Church."

Domestication of the cat is credited to the ancient Egyptians.

Brothers Breed Chinchilla

Indianapolis (AP)—Two brothers started with two pairs of chinchilla three years ago and now they have 67 of the precious rodents on their 250-acre chinchilla ranch. The chinchilla, valued at $1,500 a pair, was almost extinct in 1922, say Louis and Charles Darko. The brothers say it will be several years before enough breeding stock is accumulated to put pelts on the market.

He added that 13 busloads of campers were scheduled to use the pavilion, but hadn't arrived. (Freeman photo)

Truck Overturns As Driver Avoids Collision With Car

A dump truck overturned, striking the corner of the dance pavilion at Johnny's Drive-In at Ulster Park and spilling its load of bricks, about 4 p. m. Monday, state police reported.

Troopers said the truck was owned by Miron Building Products Company, Inc., and driven by Miles Oakley, 26, of Tillson, who was not reported injured.

Oakley told troopers he was driving north on Route 9W in a line of traffic. When the car ahead slowed, Oakely said he applied his brakes and swerved to the right to avoid a collision, and as he did so the truck turned over, state police reported.

Senate Approves

armed services budget is in the manner of laying out air force funds.

The Senate voted $21,122,361,700 and the House $20,752,412,912, compared with $22,570,289,770 the President asked. The House voted its funds all in cash but the Senate stipulated that $13,122,361,700 would be in cash and eight million in contract authority.

This authority permits contracts to be made with the assurance that Congress will vote to pay the bills later.

The Senate approved the contract authority proposed by O'Mahoney by a 79-to-0 vote but it was not explained how this, rather than cash, would help speed the air force buildup.

The Senate voted $12,165,080,000 for the army and $12,699,574,142 for the navy.

The House had voted $12,244,400,000 and $12,815,152,142. Truman had requested $14,380,622,000 for the army and $13,958,246,000 for the navy.

The Senate bill does not include a House provision—opposed by the administration—to place a 46 billion dollar lid on spending for the fiscal year, six billion below the planned figure.

Spending applies to new appropriations plus money from past appropriations for such things as planes and ships which take longer than a year to build.

Truman yesterday signed the only money bill he has received for this fiscal year. It provides $3,437,895,000 for the Treasury and Postoffice Departments, slightly under the $3,515,145,000 requested.

She is also a past president of the Kingston College Women's Club.

Rylance, who is president of William Rylance and Sons, Inc., 45 Hurley avenue, attended public schools in New York and entered the printing business in 1922. Six years ago the plant was removed from Brooklyn to Kingston.

Rylance is a director of the Queens County Federal Savings and Loan Association of New York. He attends the Fair Street Reformed Church.

He resides with his wife and three children at 44 West Chestnut street. His youngest son, David, will enter Myron J. Michael School in the fall. The two older children, Carol and Cameron, attend Kingston High School.

Case Against Cooper Dismissed by Gold

A charge of second degree assault against Peter Cooper, 59, of 11 Mill street, was dismissed this morning by Special City Judge Harry Gold on the ground that the defendant was not the aggressor and acted in self-defense in a fight in the early evening of June 24 at Ann and East Union streets.

Cooper, who was represented by Attorney Sherwood Davis, was charged with having struck and stabbed Richard Conners, 43, of 45 Meadow street, inflicting wounds on the body, chest, arms and face. Attorney John Larkin appeared for the district attorney.

Taft-Ike Fight

traditional 30 minutes, the Eisenhower statement said the change of heart proves that public opinion "can force the convention officials to hold an open, unrigged convention."

This went back to the Eisenhower backers' charge—heatedly denied by their opponents—that the Taft people have stolen delegates and grabbed control of the convention machinery. In fact, Taft backers are running the show at Chicago. But they bridle at any suggestion that they rigged the machinery.

Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, one of the Taft campaign directors, told a reporter he was all for the extra hearing time and so were Taft leaders from Texas.

Temporary TV Deadlock

In spite of the compromise on arguing time today, there was at least a temporary deadlock on TV.

Taft, one opposed to letting the fireworks explode on the nation's television screens, changed signals yesterday and told a news conference TV was all right with him if it was all right with the national committee.

All the same, Taft's supporters went right on objecting to television coverage when the question came up at yesterday's subcommittee meeting. Finally, the decision was tossed to the full committee itself, for action before today's hearings on rival delegations.

Some of the small army of television people who already are pitching camp in Chicago were pretty sure the answer would be no TV.

They were far from giving up, however.

Taft's supporters kept their attitude on the TV question behind closed doors as much as they could.

Statement Is Made

But the Eisenhower camp came out with a statement:

"We shall continue to insist that the committee hearings (on delegate selection) be open to the radio and television industry and to the press photographers. They have a perfect right to be there and to bring the proceedings to the American people." (There was some question whether news cameramen would be admitted.)

While all this was going on, convention headquarters announced the speakers who will address next week's convention after the keynote is struck by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

They include former President Hoover—down for Tuesday night—and one of the party's controversial figures, Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, scheduled to speak Wednesday afternoon.

Another Wednesday speaker: Pennsylvania Governor John S. Fine. He's the man whose state delegation may turn the tide toward Taft or Eisenhower if the outcome of the delegate contest doesn't.

Television watchers were pretty sure of seeing at least some of today's delegate fight.

First to Be Considered

Florida's contest—over 18 delegates—was the first to come up for consideration.

It's been decided to take up the controversies according to the alphabetical order of the seven states involved in disputes.

That means probably the toughest fight of all, to decide whether Texas' 38 votes go to Taft or Eisenhower, won't be reached today and may not even occur until Thursday.

Apart from the delegate row, there were these other pre-convention developments:

Harold E. Stassen, who's a candidate for the presidential nomination himself, flew in around midnight from New York.

And Thomas E. Dewey is due in tomorrow night from a governor's meeting in Texas.

Dewey was one of the earliest Ike-for-President-in-'52 men. He apparently is coming to lend a hand to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts, former GOP National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., and other Eisenhower strategists.

The general himself isn't coming in from Denver until Saturday.

David S. Ingalls, Taft's campaign manager, put out a statement referring to what he called "the Dewey group who are running the Eisenhower camp."

After Canada, Australia has the greatest length of railway per head of any country, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Kefauver Outlines Seven-Point Plan

Charlottesville, Va., July 1 (AP)—A seven-point program embodying the economic principles of the New Deal and the "Fair Deal" has been outlined by Sen. Estes Kefauver to develop and effect "a consistent and constructive program of action for the American people."

More than 2,000 persons braved wet seats caused by an evening rain to hear the Tennessee lawmaker, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, uphold generally the Roosevelt and Truman domestic policies at the University of Virginia's Public Affairs Institute.

Kefauver noted that the nation has "done especially well" since the inauguration of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933 and declared that he favored "using the same principles as sensibly and honestly as we know how." He listed these seven points of his domestic economic policy:

"A sound fiscal policy, preventing inflation, preventing depressions, conserving and improving natural resources, creating more freedom and opportunity for private enterprise, a balanced and progressive agricultural policy, and improving the social and living conditions of our people."

Dewey Says . . .

from this annual governors' conference as a much more receptive candidate for his party's nomination than when he first appeared here.

Stevenson said nothing essentially new about his publicity confessed unwillingness to run for the presidency except that if a draft develops which he said he doesn't expect, he would take a good look at it before saying either "yes" or "no."

To most of the Democratic governors here, Stevenson sounded like a man who, while reluctant, will go for the nomination prize if there is a serious effort to channel it his way.

Platform Tips

the platform group, but a third candidate—former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota—asked to be heard.

There was no doubt the key to the foreign policy tussle rested with John Foster Dulles. He has been assigned by Millikin to the task of drafting a foreign plank which party leaders hope will satisfy all sides.

The taking of testimony, in congressional committee fashion, is expected to wind up Wednesday evening. The full committee then will go into huddle behind closed doors to write the full platform.

Will Use Influence

Little Rock, July 1 (AP)—Sen. Robert S. Kerr, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, says he is convinced that President Truman will "attempt to make his influence felt" in selection of the nominee. "I think he should, and I would be surprised if he didn't," added Kerr, who came here to seek support of the Arkansas delegation to the Democratic National Convention. Asked if he thought he would be the beneficiary of the Truman influence, Kerr quipped: "Well, I'm willing. I may encourage him along that line. I may even go so far as to suggest it to him."

also reported six other open bills, eleven sealed indictments and four dismissals.

Their business not being completed Judge Cashin directed the grand jury to return to the grand jury room and continue their deliberations.

Strange as it may seem all four dismissals involved persons in the entertainment world, including a lion tamer and a sword swallower.

Produces Clippings

Terrill M. Jacobs, famous circus lion tamer, and Elmer Jacobs had been apprehended in Wawarsing on charges of having guns without a permit. Jacobs produced a large volume of publicity clippings from all over the country, indicating he was one of the world's famous lion tamers and he exhibited scars all over his body to prove his claim. He told the officials the gun he possessed was one used in his lion act. Rhodes also showed his gun was used in his act.

Georgia Anna Nelson and Milton Nelson, sward swallowers who travel with the show, and have a trick shot act as well, were arrested for possession of a firearm without the required license but when the grand jury was shown the gun was used in their act, a dismissal was granted.

Jones Enters Plea

Willie Jones of Kingston, charged with having stolen lead entered a plea of innocent to a charge of grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed on May 19, 1952. It is charged he stole lead from Edwin Bahl. Jones had no attorney and no funds to employ one and Judge Cashin assigned Andrew J. Cook, Jr., and put the case over to September. Jones was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Clinton Gardiner, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, alleged to have been committed May 24, last, entered a plea of innocent to the charge. He said his attorney was William A. Kelly. His case went over to September and he was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Schantz. Cardiner is charged with having entered a Marlborough liquor store.

Wells Is Indicted

Otis Roy Wells, who said his home was in Arlington, Virginia, was indicted in two bills for burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry alleged to have been committed May 13, 1952. One of the burglaries charged allegedly took place in Woodstock and one in the Town of Marbletown on the Vly road. The Woodstock act was alleged to have been committed at the Richard Peck place and the other at the Korwan place. Wells entered a plea of innocent to both charges. Arthur A. Davis, Jr., was assigned and Wells was remanded to jail. The cases went over to September.

William Moore, Ellenville, charged with grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed on March 29, 1952, entered a plea of innocent. Guido J. Napoletano was assigned. Defendant was remanded to jail The charge involved cashing of a government check.

Crawford Pleads Innocent

Ross Crawford, New Paltz, was charged with assault, second degree, alleged to have been committed on March 24 1952, when former Police Officer Leonard Newkirk of that village was allegedly assaulted. Crawford said he intended to get Frederick Stang to represent him. A plea of innocent was entered and Crawford was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Joseph F. Nash, was sentenced to jail for a year on February 25, 1952, on a plea of guilty to violation of Section 482, impairment of the morals of a minor, and whose sentence was suspended at that time and he was placed on probation, again faced the court. He was charged with having violated his probation on May 31, 1952, the violation being the same charge and involving a 14 year old boy. Charles Saccoman appeared for Nash and asked an adjournment of two weeks to contest the probation violation charge. Judge Cashin adjourned the matter until July 8 at 2 p. m. and remanded Nash to jail.

On motion of Michael Nardone, a rape, third degree, charge against Charles F. Powers was dismissed. A letter from the complainant was filed requesting no further prosecution. District Attorney Bruhn said he had no objection in view of the complainant's attitude and bail was exonerated.

Court recessed until July 8 at 2 p. m.

Wassaic Blaze Fells 3 Employes

Wassaic, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Three Wassaic State School employes were overcome by smoke and 174 bed patients were removed to safety when fire broke out in the basement of the school's infirmary building last night.

Sheriff C. Fred Close said a quantity of clothing and 12,000 bottles of chemicals used in the preparation of blood plasma were destroyed. He said the chemicals were stored in the basement of the infirmary by the defense department for use in a general defense emergency.

However, Dr. Raymond Wearne, director of the school, said the loss was only 100 to 200 empty bottles stored by the U. S. Government and used for the collection of blood plasma, and the clothing.

Fought Five Hours

Firemen from Wassaic were aided by fire fighters from Amenia and Dover Plains in fighting the flames for more than five hours.

Dr. Wearne said there was only minor structural damage to the building. Both the sheriff and the school director said there was no suspicion of arson.

Sheriff Close said there was no connection between the infirmary fire and a $100,000 barn fire yesterday morning on the W. Espey Albig Farm at Wassaic.

Temporary TV Deadlock

In spite of the compromise on arguing time today, there was at least a temporary deadlock on TV.

Taft, one opposed to letting the fireworks explode on the nation's television screens, changed signals yesterday and told a news conference TV was all right with him if it was all right with the national committee.

All the same, Taft's supporters went right on objecting to television coverage when the question came up at yesterday's subcommittee meeting. Finally, the decision was tossed to the full committee itself, for action before today's hearings on rival delegations.

Some of the small army of television people who already are pitching camp in Chicago were pretty sure the answer would be no TV.

They were far from giving up, however.

Taft's supporters kept their attitude on the TV question behind closed doors as much as they could.

Statement Is Made

But the Eisenhower camp came out with a statement:

"We shall continue to insist that the committee hearings (on delegate selection) be open to the radio and television industry and to the press photographers. They have a perfect right to be there and to bring the proceedings to the American people." (There was some question whether news cameramen would be admitted.)

While all this was going on, convention headquarters announced the speakers who will address next week's convention after the keynote is struck by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

They include former President Hoover—down for Tuesday night—and one of the party's controversial figures, Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, scheduled to speak Wednesday afternoon.

Another Wednesday speaker: Pennsylvania Governor John S. Fine. He's the man whose state delegation may turn the tide toward Taft or Eisenhower if the outcome of the delegate contest doesn't.

Television watchers were pretty sure of seeing at least some of today's delegate fight.

First to Be Considered

Florida's contest—over 18 delegates—was the first to come up for consideration.

It's been decided to take up the controversies according to the alphabetical order of the seven states involved in disputes.

That means probably the toughest fight of all, to decide whether Texas' 38 votes go to Taft or Eisenhower, won't be reached today and may not even occur until Thursday.

Apart from the delegate row, there were these other pre-convention developments:

Harold E. Stassen, who's a candidate for the presidential nomination himself, flew in around midnight from New York.

And Thomas E. Dewey is due in tomorrow night from a governor's meeting in Texas.

Dewey was one of the earliest Ike-for-President-in-'52 men. He apparently is coming to lend a hand to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts, former GOP National Chairman Herbert Brownell, Jr., and other Eisenhower strategists.

The general himself isn't coming in from Denver until Saturday.

And the Taft forces, pointing happily at Dewey's defeats for the presidency in 1944 and 1948, were quick to try to link Eisenhower with a losing cause.

David S. Ingalls, Taft's campaign manager, put out a statement referring to what he called "the Dewey group who are running the Eisenhower camp."

Kefauver Outlines Seven-Point Plan

Charlottesville, Va., July 1 (AP)—A seven-point program embodying the economic principles of the New Deal and the "Fair Deal" has been outlined by Sen. Estes Kefauver to develop and effect "a consistent and constructive program of action for the American people."

More than 2,000 persons braved wet seats caused by an evening rain to hear the Tennessee lawmaker, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, uphold generally the Roosevelt and Truman domestic policies at the University of Virginia's Public Affairs Institute.

Kefauver noted that the nation has "done especially well' since the inauguration of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933 and declared that he favored "using the same principles as sensibly and honestly as we know how." He listed these seven points of his domestic economic policy:

"A sound fiscal policy, preventing inflation, preventing depressions, conserving and improving natural resources, creating more freedom and opportunity for private enterprise, a balanced and progressive agricultural policy, and improving the social and living conditions of our people."

Dewey Says . . .

from this annual governors' conference as a much more receptive candidate for his party's nomination than when he first appeared here.

Stevenson said nothing essentially new about his publicity confessed unwillingness to run for the presidency except that if a draft develops which he said he doesn't expect, he would take a good look at it before saying either "yes" or "no."

To most of the Democratic governors here, Stevenson sounded like a man who, while reluctant, will go for the nomination prize if there is a serious effort to channel it his way.

Platform Tips

the platform group, but a third candidate—former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota—asked to be heard.

There was no doubt the key to the foreign policy tussle rested with John Foster Dulles. He has been assigned by Millikin to the task of drafting a foreign plank which party leaders hope will satisfy all sides.

The taking of testimony, in congressional committee fashion, is expected to wind up Wednesday evening. The full committee then will go into huddle behind closed doors to write the full platform.

Will Use Influence

Little Rock, July 1 (AP)—Sen. Robert S. Kerr, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, says he is convinced that President Truman will "attempt to make his influence felt" in selection of the nominee. "I think he should, and I would be surprised if he didn't," added Kerr, who came here to seek support of the Arkansas delegation to the Democratic National Convention. Asked if he thought he would be the beneficiary of the Truman influence, Kerr quipped: "Well, I'm willing. I may encourage him along that line. I may even go so far as to suggest it to him."

Schifano Indicted

also reported six other open bills, eleven sealed indictments and four dismissals.

Their business not being completed Judge Cashin directed the grand jury to return to the grand jury room and continue their deliberations.

Strange as it may seem all four dismissals involved persons in the entertainment world, including a lion tamer and a sword swallower.

Produces Clippings

Terrill M. Jacobs, famous circus lion tamer, and Elmer Jacobs had been apprehended in Wawarsing on charges of having guns without a permit. Jacobs produced a large volume of publicity clippings from all over the country, indicating he was one of the world's famous lion tamers and he exhibited scars all over his body to prove his claim. He told the officials the gun he possessed was one used in his lion act. Rhodes also showed his gun was used in his act.

Georgia Anna Nelson and Milton Nelson, sward swallowers who travel with the show, and have a trick shot act as well, were arrested for possession of a firearm without the required license but when the grand jury was shown the gun was used in their act, a dismissal was granted.

Jones Enters Plea

It is charged he stole lead from Edwin Bahl. Jones had no attorney and no funds to employ one and Judge Cashin assigned Andrew J. Cook, Jr., and put the case over to September. Jones was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Clinton Gardiner, charged with burglary, third degree ,and unlawful entry, alleged to have been committed May 24, last, entered a plea of innocent to the charge. He said his attorney was William A. Kelly. His case went over to September and he was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Schantz. Cardiner is charged with having entered a Marlborough liquor store.

Wells Is Indicted

Otis Roy Wells, who said his home was in Arlington, Virginia, was indicted in two bills for burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry alleged to have been committed May 13, 1952. One of the burglaries charged allegedly took place in Woodstock and one in the Town of Marbletown on the Vly road. The Woodstock act was alleged to have been committed at the Richard Peck place and the other at the Korwan place. Wells entered a plea of innocent to both charges. Arthur A. Davis, Jr., was assigned and Wells was remanded to jail. The cases went over to September.

William Moore, Ellenville, charged with grand larceny, second degree, alleged to have been committed on March 29, 1952, entered a plea of innocent. Guido J. Napoletano was assigned. Defendant was remanded to jail The charge involved cashing of a government check.

Crawford Pleads Innocent

Ross Crawford, New, Paltz, was charged with assault, second degree, alleged to have been committed on March 24 1952, when former Police Officer Leonard Newkirk of that village was allegedly assaulted. Crawford said he intended to get Frederick Stang to represent him. A plea of innocent was entered and Crawford was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

Joseph F. Nash, was sentenced to jail for a year on February 25, 1952, on a plea of guilty to violation of Section 482, impairment of the morals of a minor, and whose sentence was suspended at that time and he was placed on probation, again faced the court. He was charged with having violated his probation on May 31, 1952, the violation being the same charge and involving a 14 year old boy. Charles Saccoman appeared for Nash and asked an adjournment of two weeks to contest the probation violation charge. Judge Cashin adjourned the matter until July 8 at 2 p. m. and remanded Nash to jail.

On motion of Michael Nardone, a rape, third degree, charge against Charles F. Powers was dismissed. A letter from the complainant was filed requesting no further prosecution. District Attorney Bruhn said he had no objection in view of the complainant's attitude and bail was exonerated.

Court recessed until July 8 at 2 p. m.

Wassaic Blaze Fells 3 Employes

Wassaic, N. Y., July 1 (AP)—Three Wassaic State School employes were overcome by smoke and 174 bed patients were removed to safety when fire broke out in the basement of the school's infirmary building last night.

Sheriff C. Fred Close said a quantity of clothing and 12,000 bottles of chemicals used in the preparation of blood plasma were destroyed. He said the chemicals were stored in the basement of the infirmary by the defense department for use in a general defense emergency.

However, Dr. Raymond Wearne, director of the school, said the loss was only 100 to 200 empty bottles stored by the U. S. Government and used for the collection of blood plasma, and the clothing.

Fought Five Hours

Firemen from Wassaic were aided by fire fighters from Amenia and Dover Plains in fighting the flames for more than five hours.

Dr. Wearne said there was only minor structural damage to the building. Both the sheriff and the school director said there was no suspicion of arson.

Sheriff Close said there was no connection between the infirmary fire and a $100,000 barn fire yesterday morning on the W. Espey Albig Farm at Wassaic.
